Wales Arrives at Bedside of Dying Monarch

RACE WITH DEATH ENDS IN VICTORY AS KING RALLIES

Crown Prince Finds Father Able to Talk to Him and Leaves Palace for Own Residence.

BULLETINS REPORT SLIGHT CHANGE

London, Grieved by Fear of Ruler's Death, Relaxes as Heir to Throne Enters Palace.

BY KEITH JONES,
United News Staff Correspondent.
London, December 11.—(United News)—King George, lying gravely ill, tonight greeted his eldest son, the Prince of Wales, who had raced approximately 6,000 miles from a hunting camp in an African jungle to his bedside.

The king immediately recognized the bronze-faced young man who entered his bedchamber on the third floor of Buckingham Palace. His majesty had not been expecting the prince to reach London tonight—nine days and twelve hours after his departure from Dar-es-Salaam, East African coast.

Visit Improves King.
Immediately after the prince's visit to the sickroom had been officially announced, a statement issued at the palace said the king's condition had taken a slight change for the better. Grave anxiety for the king continued in official circles, it was said.

The heir to the British throne found his father fighting bravely against the infection which has threatened his life during the last three weeks. The line of worry showed plainly on the prince's face as he entered Buckingham Palace, after his record-breaking trip from Africa.

For an hour, while the crowds outside the gates watched the bright squares of light shining from the windows, the prince remained in the palace. When he left, at 11:24 p. m., he was smiling.

Smile Encourages Crowd.
The prince's smile as he left with the Duke and Duchess of York for their residence in Piccadilly meant a great deal in increasing the courage of the crowd which still haunted the gates of the palace.

The prince had been at the palace exactly an hour. He arrived in a beautiful, low closed car which suddenly swerved from the regular traffic on Buckingham Palace road and raced into the eastern front gate before the few hundred persons there could realize he had arrived.

In a blinding glare of headlights, the machine shot up to the entrance of the palace and came to a grinding halt. The prince had leaped from the car and started hurriedly toward the entrance before the crowd could even doff their hats. He was greeted by Sir Derek Keppel, master of the household, and then went immediately to the room of his mother, Queen Mary.

Talks to Physicians.
A crowd which fully appreciated the dramatic qualities of the prince's homecoming—the arrival of the future king at the bedside of the future father—waited almost in silence while the heir visited his mother's room.

After leaving the queen, the prince

Police Committee To Discuss Radio Proposal Tonight

Alderman Murphy and Councilman York To Ask Body To Establish System.

COST OF SYSTEM WOULD BE SLIGHT

Members of Police Body and Chief Beavers Have Expressed Themselves as in Favor of Move.

Members of the Atlanta police committee tonight will be asked to take preliminary steps looking to establishment of a police radio station to assist the local department in apprehension of criminals.

Alderman J. Charles Murphy, of the eleventh ward and chairman of the committee, and Councilman Harry York, of the sixth ward, another member of the committee, declared they would bring the matter to the attention of the committee with a view of investigating the cost of such a system and the success the plan has experienced at Detroit.

Chief of Police James L. Beavers will communicate today with Chief William P. Rutledge, of Detroit, it was indicated, to get the latter's views concerning the success of the system at the Michigan city and also its probable practicability here.

Every member of the Atlanta police committee and Chief Beavers have approved the proposal tentatively, at

$203.75 IS FARE TO SEE TECH PLAY

Sum Includes Railroad and Pullman Expense to Rose Bowl and Back to Atlanta.

BY DICK HAWKINS.

After more palaver than it required to complete the Locarno pact, officials of the Southern railway have finally answered a question uppermost in the minds of hundreds of Tech supporters these days.

Just how much it will actually cost to make the trip from Atlanta to Pasadena for the Tech-California game and return to Atlanta is finally announced. The railroad fare will be $154.00 and the Pullman will be $48.75 additional for the round trip. If simple mathematics do not fail at this crucial moment the total railway expense for the trip, according to these figures, will be $203.75.

STEPS ARE TAKEN TO STEM SPREAD OF FLU IN CITY

County Schools To Close Today Until Dec. 31 and Emory Will Dismiss Students on Saturday.

With influenza prevalent throughout almost the entire United States, local authorities moved Tuesday to prevent further local spread of the infection by advancing the county school Christmas holiday season so the holidays will begin this morning and end on December 31, while Emory university will close Saturday, five days earlier than usual, for the holiday season.

The city schools will continue on regular schedule, it was announced Tuesday, school officials holding the opinion that the children would be as well or better off in school as in their own homes.

Following this decision, Dr. J. P. Kennedy, city health officer, emphasized the fact that the best preventative for the disease is wise and sane living. Dr. Kennedy briefly summarized his precautions as follows: "Eat regularly and eat wholesome foods; sleep several hours daily and in a room with ample ventilation; spend as much time as possible in the open air and generally live a normal regular life."

County school Christmas holidays generally begin December 21 and close January 7. Under the order issued Tuesday by the county school board, only two days will be lost from the school year, as the schools close nine days earlier and reopen seven days earlier than usual.

Local medical authorities pointed out that while the epidemic here is mild and by no means alarming, it

GOODYEAR PLANT GOES TO GADSDEN

Alabama City To Get Immense Factory; Robert and Co., Atlanta, Given General Contract.

Selection of Gadsden, Ala., for establishment of the huge southern tire manufacturing plant of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, of Akron, Ohio, was announced Tuesday by Clifton Slosser, vice president, according to Associated Press dispatches received here.

Award of the general contract to construct the factory has been given to Robert & Co., an Atlanta concern, it was learned here Tuesday night.

The development is expected to include a rubber reclamation plant for general rubber goods manufacture and a fabric mill, in addition to housing facilities for employees. The first of four units of the undertaking is to be completed by midsummer, it was said. Construction cost on this unit is estimated at between $7,500,000 and $10,000,000, while the completed factory will cost in the neighborhood of $30,000,000, it was stated.

Selection of Robert & Co.

According to Ivan Allen, chairman of the industrial bureau of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, P. W. Litchfield, president of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, announced in conference at Akron, prior to making public any decision as to where the southern factory would be located, that Robert & Co. would be given the contract to construct the plant as engineers and architects.

"It is a noteworthy feature that the rubber industry has recognized the southeast with its natural advantages and has placed so much confidence in this section," Mr. Allen said Tuesday night, when informed of the press

French Writer Describes Prince's Race to London

EDWARD ALBERT, PRINCE OF WALES.

(Pierre Salarnier, of the United News Paris bureau, boarded the Chateau-Marin today and here is the first bulletin story of the prince's race to London told by the first reporter to share his life on the dash to King George's bedside.)

BY PIERRE SALARNIER,
United News Staff Correspondent.
(Copyright, 1928, by United News.)

Laon, France, December 11.—(United News)—The sun-bronzed and worried heir to the British throne broke into a wide smile here today for the first time since he left Africa on the dash to London, when the station master at this town handed him a telegram containing cheering news of King George's condition.

The special train on which the prince was breaking speed records for the race from Brindisi, Italy, to Boulogne, came to a grinding halt here during a drizzling, cold rain. The prince left his salon coach barreled and rushed down the wet platform as the engine was primed for the final spurt to the channel.

The station master met him and thrust a telegram into his hands, which he tore it open, read hastily and smiled broadly.

Still smiling, he grabbed the station master by both hands, shook them heartily, and cried: "Merci! Merci!" (Thank you! Thank you!)

Until the special train reached Laon, the prince had been in gloomy spirit. He shut himself in his compartment for hours and avoided his companions as the light train drove with mighty speed through the Alps region and on toward the coast. Sometimes he walked the corridor of the coach, smoking uncessantly, sometimes an old pipe and more often cigarettes.

Since the train left Brindisi the heir had touched almost no food, although the chef in the specially fitted restaurant car had offered him the most tempting delicacies, including

HUGH CALDWELL CLEARED BY JURY

Real Estate Broker Was Charged With Assault With Intent to Murder for Shooting Hanson.

After a brief deliberation a superior court jury early Tuesday night acquitted Hugh Caldwell, West End real estate broker, of charges of assault with intent to murder in the shooting of J. H. Hanson, young contractor.

The case was placed in the jury's hands at about 6 o'clock and after less than an hour's deliberation the jurors were taken to dinner. On their return shortly after 8 o'clock they took one ballot, returning the verdict of "not guilty."

Although he made a heroic effort to control his emotions on the return of the jury's verdict, Caldwell's sense of relief was plainly apparent in his demeanor. He shook hands with the jurors and thanked each one for the

Buenos Aires Plot On Hoover Bared; Cops Shield Facts

INTERESTS OF U. S., CHILEANS MUTUAL, HOOVER DECLARES

President-Elect Bids Santiago Adieu, Leaving for Buenos Aires on Second Leg.

Santiago, Chile, December 11.—(P)—Herbert Hoover bade farewell to Chile tonight, leaving the capital on a special train on the first leg of his journey to Buenos Aires. He had exchanged hearty expressions of friendship with the United States and Chile with his host, President Ibanez. The immediate destination of the president-elect was Los Andes, where he was to spend the night before crossing tomorrow that high mountain range which at its highest reaches 10,000 feet.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoover were escorted to the station by high officials and a military guard as the final hour in their visit of two days. After President Ibanez had entertained Mr. Hoover at luncheon in the national palace he received there the American correspondents who are covering the good will tour of Latin America.

"You must not forget," the Chilean president said, "that this country desires solid friendship with the United States." He expressed pleasure at having had the newspaper writers in Chile and hoped that their journey through South America would be very pleasant.

Receives Cabinet Members.
During his second and last morning in Santiago, Mr. Hoover received members of the cabinet while Mrs. Hoover and Mrs. William Cullerton, wife of the American ambassador, were shopping. In the afternoon the president-elect received the title of honorary member of the school of engineers of the University of Chile at

U. S. TAX REFUNDS WIPE OUT SURPLUS

Coolidge Submits to Congress Plea for Supplemental Fund of $55,000,000.

Washington, December 11.—(P)—Treasury officials' predictions as to the pre-emptive surplus for the next fiscal year theoretically changed from black to red ink today with the submission to congress by President Coolidge of a request for a supplemental appropriation of $55,000,000.

The additional money is needed for payment of tax refunds and is just $55,000,000 more over than was figured upon by the treasury in recently estimating that the government would have a surplus of $36,990,192 for the new fiscal year beginning next July 1.

In submitting the budget for 1929 the treasury had included approximately $130,000,000 for tax refunds but this amount was increased $20,

FORCE BUSY DAYS HUNTING LEADERS

President-Elect To Have Police and Military Guards on Visit to Argentine Capital.

Buenos Aires, December 11.—(P)—Official confirmation of the discovery of a plot against the life of Herbert Hoover and of its frustration by the police was made public tonight by President Irigoyen.

His statement said: "The president of the republic, being desirous of making agreeable the visit of the president-elect of the United States of America and of offering the greatest possible guarantee of safety to the personnel of the illustrious visitor, commanded the police to intensify their observation of dangerous anarchist elements."

"This order was carried out by the division of investigation, which, after discreet inquiries and investigations, this morning searched a house in Estomba street in which were found four hand grenades, two cylindrical bombs, one square bomb, dynamite, revolvers, automatic pistols, quantities of ammunition and 150 ten-peso notes—all of which have been placed at the disposal of judicial authorities."

The police said that a room in the raided house contained a detailed map of the railway system which apparently was used by the plotters in planning their attack.

It was announced tonight that 1,500 guards had been employed on

CABINET OFFERS TO RESIGN TO AID NATIONAL UNITY

Move Would Permit Formation of Body in Which All Factions Have Voice; Old Officers Return.

1929 CLASS CALLED TO DEFEND FLAG

Boy Scouts Seek Right To Form Army; Propaganda Committee Begins Stirring Up Citizenry.

La Paz, Bolivia, December 11.—(P)—Threatening war clouds continued to roll around Bolivia today.

A general staff has called to the colors the class of 1929.

Three cabinet members today agreed to resign their portfolios, to permit President Hernandez Siles to form a ministry for national concentration. It is believed that the other ministers, who had been out of the country with the commission of welcome to Herbert Hoover, would join the move.

Retired army officers have offered the general staff to rejoin their former units. Students in the universities have agreed to form a battalion of troops. Taxicab drivers and owners here have offered the government most of their conveyances for any use.

A patriotic committee composed of both men and women met here today and recommended the formation of similar committees throughout the country to acquaint all citizens by speeches and lectures with the rights of Bolivia to the Gran Chaco region which are disputed by Paraguay.

The committee for national defense and propaganda met today to formulate measures relating to the situation. The Boy Scouts have decided to become reorganized into military brigades and have requested that they be immediately called for service.

War Inevitable, Says Villazon.
The Alonso de Mendoza Social club has started popular subscriptions for the defense of the Chaco district. The situation on that frontier continues calm with both countries maintaining their garrisons in their respective positions.

During a great manifestation at Cochabamba former President Elizardo Villazon expressed the opinion that war is inevitable. Daniel Salamanca, who headed the Bolivian delegation to the boundary conference at Buenos Aires, has expressed the same opinion. The newspapers print long dispatches concerning the peace efforts launched at Washington, Montevideo and Lugano but general opinion seems to favor settlement without intervention.

The newspapers continue to print extra editions with photographs of Lieutenants Manchego and Lozada who were killed in the skirmish with the Paraguayans over possession of

KELLOGG TREATY VOTE UP IN SENATE FRIDAY

Favorable Action on Anti-War Pact Expected by Borah.

Washington, December 11.—(AP)—A tentative agreement to vote on Friday on the Kellogg anti-war treaty was reached today by the senate foreign relations committee after it had questioned the secretary of state a second time. Chairman Borah, of the committee, predicted favorable action on the treaty when the vote is taken.

Secretary Kellogg was before the committee for only 20 minutes. He reiterated his belief that the treaty would not infringe in any way upon America's Monroe doctrine. He said the fact that Russia had joined other world powers in signing the treaty did not constitute a recognition of that nation by his government. He insisted that the document carried no implied sanctions and could not involve this government in any way if it were violated.

With proponents of the treaty holding the upper hand in the committee, a vote on the pact will be pressed for on Friday. Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, who bitterly fought the league of nations and signed the treaty into the world court, asked that action go over until that day pending further study of the correspondence of the world powers in coming to their adherence to the pact. Senator Reed did not join in the agreement for a vote on the treaty on Friday nor did he indicate that he would demand a reservation he has been considering. Chairman Borah, who is supporting the pact, said he believed early approval was in prospect.

CELTIC STILL FAST, DESPITE EFFORTS TO RELEASE HER

Cobb, Ireland, December 11.—(AP)—The White Star liner Celtic, which went aground at the entrance of Cork harbor yesterday, was still fast on the rocks this afternoon. Moderating weather and calm seas, however, considerably lessened the danger of her breaking up.

It was believed that the structural work amidships had been strained by the ship's officers together with a skeleton crew needed to handle ropes during efforts to tow her off, remained aboard.

OHIO'S FLAPPER SLAYER REMAINS MYSTERY

Canton, Ohio, December 11.—(AP)—Although one of 1's clues had proved to be another blind lead, Sheriff Ed Gibson tonight was optimistic over prospects of an early solution of the slaying of Verner E. Fearn, 35-year-old cool dealer, who was shot six times in his home south of here by a young woman last Thursday evening.

The sheriff and Prosecutor Henry W. Harter, Jr., still were working on one of two important pieces of information which Gibson said he received yesterday.

In an effort to check every possible clue, the sheriff late today asked New York and Pennsylvania officers to apprehend a young woman last seen early last Friday morning motoring through Punksutawney, Pa.

One hope of authorities tonight arose from the fact that the gun the woman slayer used was a .38-caliber automatic pistol. It was thought it could be easy to trace the source where it was obtained.

One lead proved fruitless when a 22-year-old widow, answering the description of the killer, convinced officers she had nothing to do with the case. W. E. McCombs, owner of a filling station where the slayer waited for a bus to return to Canton from Fearn's home south of here, failed to identify the suspect and was released.

TWO MEN ARE BLAMED FOR ORGY OF CRIME

Held for Ten Offenses, All Occurring in a Busy Week-End.

Dallas, Texas, December 11.—(AP)—Clues and recovered loot in the possession of police here today led them to believe that two men arrested yesterday were the principals in a busy week-end of crime in this vicinity, committing ten offenses over a 36-hour period.

Their alleged crimes include at least four holdups, three criminal assaults, three farm robberies and a postoffice robbery.

The men, Lee Roy Merriman, 23, formerly of Caddo, Okla., and Benny Aldridge, 24, Dallas, have been sought in connection with a recent double murder in which two young brides were attacked then beaten to death on a lonely road near Dallas.

As police reconstruct the past week-end, which they say the two men devoted entirely to crime, the two held up three couples in a parked car here early Sunday morning, robbed the men and assaulted the women, whom they held captive until daylight, then left for Oklahoma, robbed three farm homes en route, looted a postoffice in Caney, Okla., Sunday night, and returned here at 11 a. m. yesterday.

Police encountered the men just as they returned to the city and captured them after an attempted gun fight in which Merriman was wounded in the head with a bullet.

In their car was found an overcoat taken from one of the men robbed Sunday morning; a wrist watch belonging to one of the girl victims; quilts and pillows taken from the three farm homes robbed; two shotguns, two large caliber rifles and five pistols, and postage stamps and letters stamped by the Caney, Okla., postoffice.

The three girl victims identified photos of Aldridge, as did one of the men victims. Numerous holdup victims in recent weeks identified his picture as that of the man who robbed them.

THE BREAD THAT'S DEDICATED TO ALL CHILDREN BECAUSE IT'S SO GOOD FOR THEM

HALF the benefit of eating is enjoying food. There's one of the reasons Oboy bread is so good for children. They like it. They like its flaky, crispy crust. Its snowy center. Its freshness. And its creamy, delicious flavor.

If you have found you had to coax your children to eat bread, turn them loose with a loaf of Oboy. No more urging. No more arguing. And every bite they eat is extra good for them.

But grown-ups like Oboy bread just as much. They know what a lot this new and different bread contributes to the enjoyment of any meal. That's why Oboy bread is already one of the most popular loaves ever made in this city. Buy it from your grocer. Taste it, and you'll know the reason yourself.

Common Sense Measures Are Urged in Fight on Flu

Use of common sense by Atlantans was urged Tuesday as the best preventive against the mild form of influenza which is prevalent in practically every part of the United States. The closing of the county schools this morning and the earlier holidays, vacation at Emory university, taken only as precautionary moves, should not cause alarm, city and state health departments and medical authorities stated.

The publicity committee of the Fulton County Medical society Tuesday night at the request of The Constitution issued a statement in which the society said the influenza infection should not cause alarm. The infection is running its mild course and very rarely results in complications, the statement said.

Both city and state health departments urged common sense measures, staying out of crowded and congested places, avoidance of intermingling of all kinds, keeping away from sick persons and plenty of good food, fresh air and sunshine.

The Fulton County Medical society's publicity committee statement said:

"The best means of preventing the spread of the prevalent influenza infection, which is running its mild course in Atlanta as it is in practically every other part of the nation, is to avoid crowded and congested places, avoid fatigue, have plenty of fresh air, sunshine and sleep, eat simple, nutritious foods and keep eliminations going in normal way."

"When a person feels ill and there is reason to believe that person may be infected, he or she should go to bed and stay there. For irritated throats, a warm salt water gargle, using a half teaspoon of salt to a tumbler of water, will afford relief."

"Drink plenty of water. Well persons should drink an abundance of water as well as the sick. When the fever has abated, the ill person should not get up too soon in a weakened condition."

The course of the disease will run three or four days. Staying in bed is the best means of avoiding complications. The course of the disease will run three or four days. Staying in bed is the best means of avoiding complications.

Georgia's epidemic of influenza is rapidly spreading, but the disease this year is mild in nature, according to information obtained Tuesday from Dr. Joe P. Bowdon, of the state department of health. Although only a small percentage of the cases developed are reported to the department, the report received Tuesday shows that the number of cases jumped from 344 reported last week to 900 reported Tuesday.

"There is no known definite remedy for this disease," Dr. Bowdon said. "But there are measures which can be taken and should be taken by every citizen to prevent its spread."

"First, I would advise people to avoid intermingling of all kinds. They should be temperate in eating, temperate in their habits and should get plenty of sleep. People should live as hygienically as possible, rooms should be kept as near 72 degrees as possible, with plenty of fresh air. All kinds of crowding should be avoided and persons with colds should be particularly to watch their spray. It is possible for infection to pass 20 feet from one person to another."

"Patients recovering from this disease should not try to get out of bed too quickly. First, because there is danger that they will carry the germs with them and, second, there is danger of complications of all kinds. Pneumonia is possible as a result of a case of influenza, although thus far we have had few cases of pneumonia. In fact, the disease is yet in a mild form, although there is possibility it may become virulent at any time."

Dr. Bowdon said there is danger that the disease will spread at even a more rapid rate and urged that all citizens take every possible precaution to prevent spreading.

In addition to these reports, however, United Press dispatches indicated that several sections were hard hit. The University of Missouri dismissed school and will not reopen until after the Christmas vacation on January 3 of next year because of the epidemic. Schools at Dearborn, Mo., and at Norton, Kans., were closed because of the disease.

Other towns reported attendance had fallen low.

DISEASE OF NEW FORM IN WEST.

Kansas City, December 11.—(AP)—The widespread prevalence of influenza in various communities of the west led today to the closing of additional schools, while health authorities sought methods of checking the disease.

Almost all reports indicated that the disease was not taking a severe form and few deaths had been recorded.

An epidemic in the Yakima valley in central Washington caused authorities at Yakima to order the schools closed there tomorrow and to ban the school children from the city.

More than 1,300 pupils were reported as absent from school today in Yakima.

Oregon health authorities said the disease was prevalent in a light form in that state. The schools at Canyon, Ore., have been closed. In Portland about 150 cases were reported with one death last week.

School officials in Denver estimated that ten per cent of the teachers and 15 per cent of the pupils are ill. The St. Francis de Sales High school there has closed due to illness among the teachers.

CAUSE OF "FLU" IS MYSTERY.

Washington, December 11.—(AP)—While epidemic health officials issued warnings and instructions today in the hope of curbing the spread of influenza, Dr. G. W. McCoy, director of the bureau of the public health service, declared that the cause of the disease was still a "question mark" to scientists.

"The bacillus which causes influenza has never been isolated," he said. "It is impossible to say whether the disease results from activities of one or several germs."

Dr. McCoy said in 1889, a germ, he explained, the Pfeiffer bacillus, was isolated and accepted as the influenza virus. This belief, however, he added, lasted until the epidemic of 1912.

One reason so little is known of influenza is that it is a comparatively new disease, he said, and "then our material to work on is exhausted."

EDUCATION BOARD PRAISES SERVICES OF EUBANKS, COUCH

Dr. R. M. Eubanks, commissioner from the fourth ward, and Alderman J. Allen Couch, of the fifth ward, and as chairman of the school committee of city council a member of the Atlanta board of education, attended their last meetings of the board Tuesday afternoon.

Dr. Eubanks will retire and will be succeeded by J. Ira Harrelson, and Mr. Couch will retire unless he is again selected as chairman of the school committee.

Dr. Eubanks expressed his gratitude to both by giving out of thanks Mrs. Julia O'Keefe Nelson, commissioner from the sixth, offered the resolution regarding Dr. Eubanks and Mr. W. W. Gage, commissioner from the third, the one regarding Mr. Couch.

Both were lauded for their unselfish and faithful service in the "interests of the school children of the city of Atlanta."

POLICE COMMITTEE TO DISCUSS RADIO

least, pending the information regarding the probable cost. It was indicated Tuesday night that the entire system could be installed at a cost of a few thousand dollars.

"We would need a sending station not exceeding 250 watts," he has been informed," Mr. York said. "This would not cost a great deal. All the police cars would not necessarily be equipped, but if the system should be a phenomenal success at Detroit as reports indicate, there is no doubt in my mind but that it would be of great value here."

Survey Should Be Made.

"If we are to do anything along this line, a survey should be made at once and details of the cost tabulated so that the department can include it in the estimated budget for operation for 1929. If the cost is not great, it might be absorbed by the department itself without asking a special appropriation from council."

Fulton county has shown a willingness to cooperate in order to reap some of the advantages of the system. The county and the city should be able to work out some kind of a solution regarding the cost, which would work a hardship on neither."

Walter C. Hendrix, chairman of the police committee of Fulton county, was suffering from an attack of influenza Tuesday night, and Mr. Murphy had not had an opportunity to confer with him about the matter.

Miss Esch Makes Survey.

Miss Leona N. Esch, operating director of the Cleveland Association for Criminal Justice, and only woman director of a crime commission in the United States, Tuesday night, aboard one of the fast "cruisers" of the Detroit department to gather first-hand information as to its success and effectiveness.

Records of the Detroit department show that 485 arrests have been made by the eight cruisers of the system during the past eight months in less than sixty seconds from the time the call was flashed via the radio from the Detroit broadcasting station.

Many of the offenders were caught red-handed, and the convicting evidence was gathered at the same time the prisoner was apprehended.

Heard of System.

Miss Esch went to Detroit last November to make an address regarding criminal justice work. While there she heard something of the radio work of the Detroit police. She heard how bandits had been captured, burglars surprised in homes and other criminals apprehended.

Ever alert to obtain information concerning the latest and most scientific methods of police work, she obtained all the data possible in the limited time at her disposal.

Last Monday she returned to Detroit for two purposes, one the inspection of the methods of the police training school and the other, which she says is the principal one, an extensive and first hand study of the broadcasting system.

Makes Own Investigations.

Miss Esch is not the type of person or executive to gain her information from reports alone or from the observations of others. She makes her own investigations, surveys and research, then makes her reports to the commission, made up from the leading business and professional men of Cleveland.

"I don't know when anything has gripped me as has the police radio work in Detroit," Miss Esch said. "We have no police radio in Cleveland. My visit to Detroit is for the purpose of determining whether such a system would be advisable for Cleveland."

Miss Esch and Patrolman Kenneth Cox were to ride with the regular crew of a sergeant and three men as the cruiser sped through the night in response to orders reaching it from the police radio station, WJLB.

Many High-Powered Cars.

The Detroit police, like the police of many other large cities, have a number of high-powered cars which continually are cruising about certain areas of the city. The Detroit cruisers are equipped with receiving sets and loud speakers by means of which orders may be transmitted in split-seconds to the cruisers from the police broadcasting station.

So effective has the system been in the last eight months with never more than nine cruisers being equipped at one time that 485 arrests have been made at an average time of less than 60 seconds each.

U. S. TAX RETURNS WIDE OUT SURPLUS

000,000 in later estimates while today's addition brought the total to about $295,000,000. Receipts for the year were estimated in the budget at $3,777,735,000 while the expenditures without the latest increase in tax refunds had been estimated at $3,047,743,460.

Because of the close proximity of expected expenditures and receipts President Coolidge feels that congress this winter must go slow in making appropriations. Unless rigid economy is practiced by the legislators on Capitol Hill he is fearful that the incoming Hoover administration might find itself operating on a narrow fiscal margin.

The increase in tax refunds, treasury officials explained, was due to court decisions, provisions of the 1923 revenue law and to the action of the treasury bureau in speeding up and disposing of cases more rapidly than heretofore. Under the present revenue law the United States pays interest at 6 per cent on refunds agreed upon or allowed by the courts, and officials said the increased appropriation was required to meet such debts that might arise and thus avoid as far as possible paying the interest.

Government officials, however, have taken the view that there would not be a deficit this year. In testifying before the house appropriations committee last week, the treasury secretary of the treasury, gave an optimistic view of the government's finances.

"We are out of the woods," he said, "and there is no chance for a deficit either in 1929 or 1930."

verdict in his favor, explaining his appreciation and stating that he believed that the jury had done justice.

Caldwell Divorced.

Caldwell's wife recently was given her second total divorce verdict, the real estate operator agreeing to give substantial alimony each month for the support and education of his two sons until they reach the age of 21 years.

William Schley Howard and Lewis J. Bailey, of Branch and Howard, represented Caldwell while the prosecution was conducted by Ed A. Stephens and John H. Hudson, assistant solicitor generals, and Don K. Johnson, who had been Caldwell's attorney.

His body racked by sobs as he paused frequently during his statement to the jury, Caldwell related the circumstances of Hanson's shooting, according to his own version of the matter. The real estate broker, according to his testimony, went to pieces when he saw Hanson and Mrs. Caldwell enter an automobile, Hanson patting Mrs. Caldwell upon the leg, and Mrs. Caldwell, weeping, looking toward the face. Use of the term, "That young rascal," was made by Caldwell in referring to Hanson, whom he charged with "coming around" with Mrs. Caldwell.

Defendant's Son Testifies.

Another dramatic moment of the trial occurred when Clarence Caldwell, 18, son of the defendant, took the stand and testified in his father's defense. Caldwell, who is 14 years old, swore that his father had treated the family badly as long as he could remember. He said that his father had beaten him and his mother and that he had been in the hospital for a long time because of his father's treatment.

Young Caldwell attacked him (Clarence) with a walking stick. He said that he had been asked if he had received any letters from his father and if he had returned them unopened. He replied in the affirmative, and said that he received one letter in which his father abused his mother, so he returned the others unopened. At this moment Attorney William Schley Howard, of the defense, walked up to the boy, placed some money in his hand, and asked him to hire a taxicab and go get the letter he had opened. Clarence handed the money back to the lawyer, said that he had a car of his own, and, on being dismissed from the witness chair left the courtroom.

Admits Carrying Pistol.

Clarence admitted that he had testified at the divorce hearing that he had carried a pistol to use on his father if it became necessary. Hugh Caldwell, 14, the other son, gave testimony similar to that given by his brother.

The defense offered in evidence the letters said to have been returned unopened.

TEACHERS TOLD THEY MUST READ NEW TESTAMENT

Atlanta school teachers must read the New Testament "just as much as they do the Old Testament" in opening school sessions," in accordance with orders Tuesday of the Atlanta board of education.

Mrs. Julia O'Keefe Nelson, commissioner from the sixth, offered a paper, which precipitated a discussion and brought Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of schools, to the defense of the teachers.

Mrs. Nelson charged that some of the teachers are deleting "Jesus Christ from the exercises by reading only the Old Testament."

Mr. Sutton declared that some of the Biblical readings were used as corollary readings to certain historical studies.

"That may account for the fact that some of the teachers have not read the New Testament in certain instances," Mr. Sutton said.

Commissioner J. Allen Couch, of the fifth ward, declared the law says to read the Bible and that if it is being done, the board should not attempt to prescribe what sections should be read.

Mr. Couch was the only member of the board voting against the Nelson paper.

Meanwhile the police are continuing their hunt for the slayer. Up to a late hour Tuesday night, it was said that they had not yet developed any important clues.

MEASURES TO BE TAKEN TO PREVENT SPREADING OF FLU

It is best for the people to take all available precautionary measures. Many prominent Atlantans are confined to their homes with attacks of influenza, while even the nursing staffs of the hospitals report numbers of cases among their members. The state capital, county courthouse and other public buildings report their share of cases.

In a letter dictated to his wife Tuesday, Jere A. Wells, county school superintendent, who is confined to his home with a mild case of "flu," informed the county principals that, in view of the seriousness of the "flu" epidemic and of the many cases of diphtheria and scarlet fever, the county board of health has recommended the suspension of the county schools until after the Christmas holidays. The county board of education, on this recommendation, has ordered the schools closed until Monday, December 31.

The county board of education had planned to suspend school for the Christmas holidays from December 21 to January 1, but because of the seriousness of the present situation, it is necessary to close the schools earlier and resume work earlier after the holidays, Mr. Wells pointed out.

The letter to the county principals said that the board of health urges all parents to keep their children at home and help check the spread of the disease by avoiding crowds. Officials point out that the violence of the disease increases where crowds congregate.

Classes at Emory university will close for the Christmas holidays Saturday, December 15, according to an announcement from the office of the president, Dr. H. W. Cox, Tuesday afternoon. The closing will come five days earlier than had been planned, the announcement said, as "a precautionary move."

Dr. Cox said that there were few cases in the university, but that it had been decided best to take the precaution.

Examinations will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, instead of Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week, the announcement said. The holidays had been scheduled to start next Thursday until the action taken Tuesday.

INFLUENZA WAVE SPREADING IN WEST.

Chicago, December 11.—(United Press).—Chicago and the middle west, situated at the danger point, rose today to block the spread of influenza which threatens the nation with an other epidemic such as took heavy tolls of life in 1918 and 1920.

The disease which reached epidemic proportions along the Pacific coast, and in certain other sections of the west, has increased at an alarming rate the past few days in Chicago and in various cities of surrounding states.

At the same time the United States public health service in Washington was announcing a general increase in the number of influenza cases.

Dr. Arnold H. Kezel, health commissioner of Chicago, called upon all doctors and health authorities in the city to aid in combating the disease.

Kansas showed the largest increase in the number of cases officially reported to Washington for the week ending December 11, 21,238 cases, 13,509 developed in Kansas, the reports showed.

The following statistics on official reports were given out at Washington today:

Montana, 4,580 new cases; Colorado, 1,936 new cases; New Mexico, 170; Arizona, 100; Wisconsin, 107; North Dakota, 194; Illinois, 97; Michigan, 6; Arkansas, 95; Louisiana, 30; Tennessee, 38; Idaho, 7; Utah, 96; Washington, 22; Maine, 12; Connecticut, 4; New York city, 36; New Jersey, 22; Maryland, 10; West Virginia 57 and Florida 17.

opened by Clarence Caldwell, but on the objection of the state, the letters were withdrawn by the defense. The defendant had said that the letters were full of love and affection for his family, and contained checks.

Defense Introduces Relatives.

Kennon Caldwell, brother, and Mrs. Mildred Webb and Mrs. Cary Hanbury, sisters of the defendant, were introduced by the defense as witnesses to show that Caldwell had been a prosperous, decent citizen until Mrs. Caldwell and he separated, and that from that time on Caldwell began to worry over family affairs and his estrangement from his sons until he got into a highly nervous condition. The brother and sisters met the same afternoon Hanson was shot in an effort to see what they could do about Caldwell's condition, they testified.

Giving way to tears and sobs, and sometimes hardly able to speak, Caldwell told a story of marital strife which resulted in his wife suing him for divorce in April of 1927. Caldwell said that he gave his wife half of his property in 1924 to induce her to return to him, and that she got in jointly on some of the "balance" of his property. Mrs. Caldwell started lunacy proceedings against him in March of 1927, following their separation in February of that year, and Hanson was in the hospital on March 14 and 15, 1927, there was a mistrial, Caldwell said.

$203.75 RATE SET FOR TECH SPECIAL

while the fare on the train that leaves December 26 will be a few dollars more for Pullman fare because of a proposed stop-over in the Grand Canyon.

These figures are a bit disappointing to some fans who expected a lower rate for the trip but it was explained by railway officials that no better combination could be figured with the western routes than the one stated above. On Alabama's two trips to the coast the rate was much cheaper but it was pointed out by officials that at those particular times it happened that certain excursion rates were in force in the west that dovetailed with the itinerary of the specials.

According to present plans the train that leaves here on the 23d will be known as the Yellow Jacket special and will follow the route via Birmingham, Memphis and Kansas City, thence over the Missouri Pacific to Pueblo, Colo., through the Royal Gorge during the daytime, crossing the continental divide; thence to Salt Lake City, through the Feather River canyon and into San Francisco, where a 24-hour stopover will be made. From there the party goes to Los Angeles and Pasadena. The Golden Tornado special leaves at the same time on the 26th and follows the same route with a stopover in the Grand Canyon.

Trains Being Organized.

These two special trains are being organized under the direction of L. W. (Chip) Robert, member of the Tech athletic council; George T. Marchmont, president of the National Georgia Tech Alumni association, and R. Jack Tieszen, national alumni secretary, and it is the belief of these men that the two trains will be virtually filled when departure time arrives.

That the Tech alumni and friends of the Tornado in Pasadena have not been idle in their plans to entertain the visitors from Dixie is evidenced by a telegram received by Clark Howell, Sr., publisher of The Atlanta Constitution, Tuesday from Zach Lamar Cobb, Californian, who spent his youth in Atlanta.

A well-organized group of Tech supporters will look after the interests of the visitors while in the City of Roses. The telegram follows:

Honorable Clark Howell:

Referring to my letter of November 30, we have perfected organization of local Georgians to crystallize support for Tech on New Year's day by choosing C. Sumner James, vice president Citizens' National bank, Los Angeles, and B. McCall, 125 North Stanley drive, Beverly Hills, Calif., president and secretary, respectively. McCall is an alumnus of Tech. We will have many thousands of southerners present to cheer for Georgia. We hope Atlanta may send a special train of her most representative citizens for the occasion. Please bring this to the attention of proper officials and have them communicate with McCall, secretary.

AUSTRIA OFFER TO PAY APPROVED BY HOUSE

Measure Providing for 25 or 40 Years To Settle Now Goes to Senate.

Washington, December 11.—(AP)—The Burton bill providing for settlement of the Austrian debt of $34,630,988 to the United States was passed today by the house by a vote of 140 to 26. The measure now goes to the senate.

The measure would authorize the American government to accept Austria's offer to pay either in 25 equal annuities beginning January 1, 1943, or in 40 yearly payments beginning next January 1.

It also would permit the United States to cooperate with nine European creditors of Austria in making it possible for Austria to float a $100,000,000 reconstruction loan.

The proposed settlement, which is along the same lines of those accepted by seven of the nine European creditors of Austria, drew the fire from Representative Garner, democrat, Texas, who contended it would bring the United States only 30 cents on the dollar.

MEMORY OF JUDGE CAUSES DOWNFALL OF ALLEGED THIEF

It takes a good memory to be judge of the criminal court of Atlanta. Judge Jesse Wood proved Tuesday morning to the satisfaction of court attendees.

"G. S. Gibson" came before Judge Wood on a charge of larceny of an automobile tire cover. Gibson announced ready for trial, but demanded a jury. "Isn't your name W. C. Green?" Judge Wood asked. "No, your honor," Gibson replied.

"Yes, it is," Judge Wood continued. "You can't be a year ago in a liquor charge, and received a 12-month sentence. You became ill with pneumonia in jail, and I allowed you to go to the hospital without bond in order that you might obtain better treatment. You were to report back to me when you became well."

"Gibson" pondered for a moment, and then admitted: "Yes, that's so." Judge Wood de-docketed the larceny charge and remanded Green, alias Gibson, to the chain gang to serve out the 12-month term on the old liquor charge.

FATHER AND SON'S LONG SUFFERING ENDED BY SARGON

Atlanta Man Declares He Could Have Saved Much Money and Suffering If He Had Known of It Years Ago.

"If I had only been able to get Sargon years ago I could have saved myself lots of money and suffering. I took Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills for a bad case of stomach trouble. My case was diagnosed as nervous indigestion, and since 1914 I have not known what it was to do down at the table and enjoy a good meal. I almost had to starve myself to death, and then everything I ate would disagree with me and cause me the worst kind of suffering and distress. My food simply would not digest, and gas would form on my stomach, and I am telling you that it was so bad it would affect my heart and I thought I had serious heart trouble. I would be in such misery that I would have to get up and take something to give me relief. After going through it, I might like this I was always tired and sick when morning came, and was in a worse condition than when I went to bed the night before. I did not feel like doing a day's work. It was an effort to pull myself out of bed and try to make a day of it. I lost lots of weight, and when I began the Sargon treatment I was thinner than I had been since I was a boy."

"Stomach Like New." "I was constipated to such an extent that I had to take a laxative every night. My doctor had most of the time and I would have dizzy spells and a bad taste in my mouth, but there is no need of suffering from constipation when you get Sargon Soft Mass Pills. One bottle of these Pills have done more for me than all the laxative medicines I have used in the past 10 years. I am now normal and Sargon Pills have done the work without griping or making me sick."

"My stomach is like new. I am eating things now that used to double me in a knot. My appetite is fine and I enjoy my meals. I go to sleep by the time I get in bed and get up feeling fit for a day's work."

"I have given my son, Lelloy, age 14, Sargon and it has done him so much good we are going to keep this medicine in our home for a household remedy."

"I have been telling the boys down at the Southern Transfer Yards about this medicine, and several of them are trying it since they have seen how it has helped me."

The above statement was made by C. S. Barnes, who resides with his family on Route 53, Box 220, Atlanta. Mr. Barnes is 41 years of age, married, and the father of six children. He is well known and highly respected among his friends and acquaintances.

Sargon can be obtained from the Jacobs Pharmacy Company stores all over Atlanta. A special representative of the Sargon Laboratories can be seen at Jacobs' main store, 6 and 8 Marietta street, where he will gladly explain the Sargon Soft Mass Pills to all who are interested.—(adv.)

C. N. Long, of Bremen, Wins Corn Cup Offered by Southern Railway System

Judges who awarded the Southern Railway system's corn cup, offered to the grower of the best ten ears produced in eight southern states, to C. N. Long, of Bremen. Left to right: Dr. H. W. Barr, director, experiment station, Clemson College, S. C.; C. A. Cobb, editor, the Southern Ruralist, Atlanta; Dr. Tait Butler, editor the Progressive Farmer, Memphis, Tenn.

C. N. Long, of Bremen, Tuesday was awarded the Southern Railway system's corn cup, the handsome trophy offered to the grower of the best 10 ears of corn produced in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee or Kentucky, thus qualifying as the ace of southern corn growers for 1923. His exhibit had won first prize at the recent Southeastern fair in Atlanta. Edwin Haulston, of Louisville, Tenn., and James A. Patterson, of China Grove, N. C., who won the cup in 1922 and 1921, were given honorable mention.

The award was made by a committee of agricultural experts, consisting of Dr. Tait Butler, editor of the Progressive Farmer, Memphis, Tenn.; Dr. H. W. Barr, director, experiment station, Clemson College, S. C.; and C. A. Cobb, editor the Southern Ruralist, Atlanta. Mr. Long's name will be engraved on the cup along with those of Willie Pat Boland, of Newberry, S. C., who won it in 1922; Mr. Patterson and Dan Bickley, of Irmo, S. C., the winner last year. The cup will remain in his possession until the winner for 1923 is declared. In announcing their decision, the judges said:

"The contest for the Southern railway corn cup is one of the progressive steps in southern agriculture looking to the production of more and better corn in the south. The agricultural leaders of the south seem agreed that the most important single factor in developing a successful livestock industry in the south is a larger and more economic production of corn. The south is blessed with a number of excellent fields that carry high per cent of product but which probably always be the basis of the carbohydrate portion of our rations and any project that looks to the increased production and improvement in the quality of corn is a forward step in southern agriculture, worthy to be commended and encouraged."

2 MEN ARRESTED FOR POSTOFFICE THEFT AT CLAYTON

Jabel York and John Burton have been arrested in connection with the robbery of the Clayton postoffice on December 2, according to information received by Joe P. Johnston, postoffice inspector in charge, from Inspector Barry, who made the arrest. A full confession from the two men has been obtained, it was stated.

The postoffice at Clayton was broken into on December 2 and a safe containing about $600 in stamps, $30 in cash and a number of money order forms, was stolen. It is thought that the robbers failed in their efforts to open the safe and it was later recovered intact.

ILL-FATED SUB S-4 LEAVES NAVY YARD TO CONDUCT TESTS

Portsmouth, N. H., December 11.—The submarine S-4, which sailed from the navy yard here last December on the test cruise that resulted in the deaths of the 40 men comprising its officers and crew, today left here again to make tests in diving and resurfacing work.

This time the S-4 was little more than a hull. Stripped of her operating machinery, the submarine was towed by the rescue ship Falcon, which was fitted largely in salvaging the S-4 after she was sank off Provincetown, Mass., after a collision with the coast guard destroyer Peconic.

The Falcon headed for New London, Conn., where a series of submarine diving tests will be conducted. Later the S-4 will be towed to a point off Key West for further tests.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN WAS BURNED ALIVE, POLICE BELIEVE

Mount Clemens, Mich., December 11.—(AP)—In charred clothing, some of which still smoldered, the body of an unidentified man was found today on a highway near Ulfon, Mich. Although there was a bullet hole in his head, Macomb county authorities expressed the belief that the man had been burned alive.

His drawn features and the presence nearby of a gallon can containing gasoline caused Coroner Howard V. Groesbeck and Sheriff Percy L. Moore to express the belief the man had been taken to the spot while still alive, his clothing saturated with gasoline and set ablaze. Their theory was that he was the victim of Detroit's underworld and that he had been tortured to death by gangsters.

The only clue to identification was a laundry mark, "M. S." on the shirtband. The man apparently was about 40 years old.

ROTHSTEIN SLAYING STARTS NARCOTIC QUIZ

Dead Man's Connection With Ring Is Being Investigated.

New York, December 11.—(AP)—The shot which dropped Arnold Rothstein November 4 in the Park Central hotel eventually may echo around the world, for he was shot, said that he had been threatened by George McManus, McManus is held in jail here without bond, charged with Rothstein's murder. He is the only one of four indicted by the county grand jury who has been arrested. Three other unnamed men are being sought.

Representative Porter, a member of the foreign relations committee, came here with Colonel L. C. Nutt, head of the National Narcotic bureau, to inquire at first-hand into the slain gambler's connections with the smuggling of narcotics.

"I have been gathering evidence in regard to this phase of the matter for a long time," Mr. Porter said. "And I am hopeful that the Rothstein homicide will add materially to the data which I have collected."

He asserted the United States had complied with the agreement and that if European manufacturers would do likewise smuggling would cease.

Joseph Unger, alias Meyer, alias Klein, is under indictment here for possession, concealment and transportation of $2,000,000 worth of narcotics. Federal agents went to Buffalo, where he is held under $1,000,000 bond, to seek his return to New York and the jurisdiction of the southern New York district. Information secured from Rothstein's files led to which I have collected."

Mrs. June Boyd, in whose apartment in Chicago $500,000 worth of narcotics was found, testified before the federal grand jury which indicted Unger. She was named in the indictment as a conspirator but not as a defendant. She was believed to have given authorities valuable information as to the operations of the gang to which Unger belonged.

Developments in the narcotic investigation have pushed the police search for Rothstein's slayer into the background. Another witness in the case, a man police said walked to the Park Central hotel with Rothstein the night he was shot, was arrested in Atlantic City last night. He is Leo Maloney, 43, New York gambler. He had been sought for some time.

Captain of Detectives Ferrett, of Atlantic City, said Maloney told him that Rothstein, just a few minutes before he was shot, said that he had been threatened by George McManus. McManus is held in jail here without bond, charged with Rothstein's murder. He is the only one of four indicted by the county grand jury who has been arrested. Three other unnamed men are being sought.

CITY HAS SIXTY-FIVE SLAYINGS IN 10 YEARS

Federal Authorities Start Probe of Conditions in Chicago Heights.

Chicago, December 11.—(AP)—A decade of disorder in suburban Chicago Heights, scene of 65 slayings since 1918, commanded federal scrutiny today.

A politico-criminal alliance was blamed by Assistant United States District Attorney Daniel Anderson for five deaths by violence in the past ten days. Mayor Daniel Bergin was urged to tell Chicago Heights' story to a federal grand jury.

Dominick Spofato's death yesterday was attributed by police to his enemies in the "alky" racket. It was the eighth slaying during Mayor Bergin's two-year administration.

Ten days ago Joseph Martino, an aspirant to leadership of Chicago Heights bootleggers, was slain in front of his saloon. In South Chicago Heights Police Chief Leroy Gilbert was a victim of assassins last week. Vigilantes searching for his slayers mistakenly fired at Thomas Scanlon, a printer, killing him.

Attorney Anderson has charged that Mayor Bergin's construction company built one of the town's breweries. He said he had information involving other officials. A federal grand jury investigation, he believes, would disclose the suburb's domination by liquor interests and gangsters.

BARBER MISSING AS BODY OF WIFE IS FOUND IN TRUNK

Memphis, Tenn., December 11.—(AP) Discovery of bloodstained towels in a trunk today led to the finding of the body of Mrs. Charles S. Taylor, 47, wife of the proprietor of the barber shop, stuffed in a trunk.

Mrs. Taylor had been reported missing since the night of December 3. Her skull had been crushed, the body stripped of clothing and the trunk locked.

Police were endeavoring this afternoon to locate the woman's husband. According to neighbors, neither had been seen about the building since Monday of last week.

The body was found by a neighbor, who forced an entrance to the building which had been closed for several days.

I ASKED MY DAUGHTER WHAT SHE WANTED FOR CHRISTMAS

YOU may say I was a brave man. But then you don't know Mildred as I do. However, I was prepared for the worst. It might be a square-cut emerald or a Lincoln coupe or a Mediterranean Cruise or any one of a dozen things that would put a crimp in the old bank-balance.

But I plunged right in. And what do you think she said? I'll quote her as nearly as I can remember.

"I want an Orthophonic Victrola, Dad, and I'll tell you why. First of all, I think it's an unselfish gift. You and Mother and Ted will get just as much out of it as I will, and I mean you'll get a lot."

"It would be just like having Leopold Stokowski and George Olsen and Fritz Kreisler and Helen Kane and a hundred other great entertainers right in the next room . . . ready to drop everything and play or sing for us at the crook of a finger. And you know what kind of music it would be, Dad.

"When the bunch is at our house, we could dance to the best bands in the country. If we liked a particular tune, we could play it a dozen times. The Victrola orchestras never have to go home and get some sleep. They're on the job all the time. You know what I mean, Dad.

"And I don't mean to knock the radio. It has its place, the same as the Victrola. In fact, I wish you'd buy me a Victrola that has a Radiola in the same cabinet. But I do want an Orthophonic Victrola, Dad, more than anything else in the world. And they don't cost a million dollars."

Well, it's all settled. Mildred is going to get her Victrola for Christmas. Maybe I'm a bit selfish, like the fellow who gave his wife a box of cigars. We're all going to enjoy the Victrola.

Doolan, a leading member of the bar at Louisville, Ky., before the members of the Lawyers' Club of Atlanta at its monthly meeting, to be held at the Henry Grady hotel at 5:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. He is a member of the law firm of Traub, Doolan, Helm & Helm. He is a graduate of the University of Virginia and has served as president of the Louisville and Kentucky State Bar associations. Mr. Doolan's interest in government is evidenced by his participation in the affairs of the democratic party in his community. He has served in the past as chairman of the democratic committee of Louisville. The wide scope of his interest is apparent from his membership in the Filson club, a literary club of Louisville which was organized more than 60 years ago.

Realty Chief, Architect Praise Master Dwelling

Adding their praise to that of many other civic leaders, Frank C. Owens, president of the Atlanta Real Estate Board, and J. Kennon Perry, prominent Atlanta architect, have given high endorsement to The Constitution's master model home and model home in the Morningside community.

Since their formal opening on November 25, the two demonstration homes have attracted 60,000 visitors who displayed keen interest in the construction of the homes and the furnishings supplied by Atlanta stores.

That this interest will result in a beneficial improvement in local home-building standards, is seen by Mr. Owens and Mr. Perry. The latter was architect of the master model home, which is built only of nationally-advertised, standard materials to meet the rigid specifications of the Home Owners' Institute of America, a great organization sponsoring advanced-type homes in 30 leading American cities.

Mr. Owens' letter with reference to the home is as follows:

"Editor Constitution: I think your paper should be congratulated on the splendid work it is doing on behalf of this city and its people in sponsoring the master model home at 705 Morningside drive and the model home on Rock Springs road.

"No one realizes more keenly than the real estate man the need of higher building standards in Atlanta, a general realization of the vital importance of building homes for permanence, and the unfailing economy of using only the best materials in their construction.

"This practice is magnificently exemplified particularly in your master model home, and the fact that so many thousands of Atlantans have visited and inspected it and the model home lead to the conclusion that they will prove a valuable step toward better-built and more serviceable and livable homes in Atlanta. You deserve high praise for lending such a work your aid, and none appreciates what you are doing more than the real estate board.

"FRANK C. OWENS."

Letter from Perry.

Mr. Perry writes as follows:

"Editor Constitution: In sponsoring the master model home, you have rendered a distinct service to prospective home-builders of Atlanta, and I wish to commend you for the results you have obtained.

"The master model home was designed with the idea of placing before the people of Atlanta a modern home, conveniently arranged, meeting the requirements of the average family, the use of the very best of materials and construction throughout in a manner that impresses the home-builder with the ultimate economy of such construction.

"I feel sure that this, and other homes built in like manner, will undoubtedly have a marked influence upon people who wish to build for themselves an enduring home.

"R. KENNON PERRY,
"Architect."

Only One of Type.

As stated above, the master model home is the only one in this section which bears the stamp of approval of the Home Owners' Institute. It is built for permanence as well as beauty, service and comfort, and features such highly modern materials as steel casement windows, metal lath walls, concrete and asbestos roof, brass piping throughout, copper gutters, built-in incinerator and other similar items. In addition, every item of material used is standard and nationally approved by builders and architects.

The model home is a less pretentious structure, having many interesting and attractive features but not conforming to the Home Owners' institute specifications.

The two homes will remain open for public inspection until December 23, on week days between 2 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon and on Sundays from 2 to 10 o'clock at night. An invitation is extended to all to visit them and ask questions concerning their construction and modern beautiful appointments supplied by a long list of Atlanta's leading home furnishing stores.

ATLANTA'S SON FIGURES IN RESCUE OF FOUR BOATMEN

Julian Camp, salesmanager of the L. D. Llewellyn company, of Miami, and a son of W. M. Camp, southern superintendent of the Pullman company of Atlanta, recently figured in the rescue of four fishermen whose boats had encountered trouble while on a trip near Miami and who were all near death when picked up by Mr. Camp.

Mr. Camp and a companion, Harry Hill, of Lansing, Mich., were returning to Miami aboard Mr. Camp's company launch, the Diesel Power, when they noticed a fisherman in a boat stranded on a bar near Long Key. They put in to remove him from his plight by towing his boat off the bar. Soon after, with the first fisherman's craft still in tow, they sighted three figures on a desolate key and put in to find that they had been marooned there by the sinking of their boat. These also were taken off and returned to Miami. The lone fisherman had been stranded for three days without food and the other party had been on the key for several hours when they were rescued by Mr. Camp and his companion.

200,000 FLU CASES IN UNITED STATES

Surgeon General Gives Advice to Those Who Are Stricken.

Washington, December 11.—(P)—Surgeon General Cummings, of the public health service, advised against closing city schools to prevent spread of influenza today, as 21,238 new cases were reported by health officers in 26 states. Estimating that not more than one-fifth of the cases are being reported, he said there probably are 200,000 cases of the disease in the country.

"Although the weight of scientific opinion seems to be in favor of closing schools and other public places," Surgeon General Cummings said, "and although this has proved efficacious in rural districts, there is little evidence that it is of value in cities. Close contacts in the cities are unavoidable whether the individual is in school or not, and we believe it is better for the children to be in school under supervision."

Following are the number of cases reported in 26 states for the week ended December 8: Kansas, 13,596; Montana, 4,580; Colorado, 1,938; North Dakota, 194; Wisconsin, 107; New Mexico, 170; Arizona, 100; Maine, 12; Connecticut, 4; New York city, 38; New Jersey, 22; Illinois, 97; Michigan, 6; Maryland, 10; West Virginia, 57; Florida, 11; Arkansas, 95; Louisiana, 36; Texas, 28; Idaho, 7; Utah, 96; and Washington, 22.

The surgeon general said the surest single means of preventing spread of cases of influenza is to "go to bed the moment colds and feverishness develop." He made a plea for this on the scores of both protection of the individual from pneumonia and other complications and protection of communities from spread of the epidemic.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS CLOSED AT HIGH POINT, N. C.

High Point, N. C., December 11.—(P)—Public schools were ordered closed today when it was found that attendance was 1,400 below normal due to the prevalence of influenza. The attendance dropped 500 over the week-end, school authorities said. The schools will remain closed until December 31. High Point is a city of more than 30,000.

SAYS ST. PAUL TYPE IS NOT DANGEROUS

St. Paul, Minn., December 11.—(P)—Between five and six hundred cases of influenza have been reported in St. Paul, Dr. B. F. Simon, city health officer, reported today. The influenza of the "chest" type is "not dangerous," Dr. Simon said.

SIX AT COLUMBIA, MO. DEVELOP PNEUMONIA

Columbia, Mo., December 11.—(P)—Six influenza sufferers at the University of Missouri hospital have developed pneumonia within the last 24 hours. The university was closed yesterday because of the epidemic of influenza and the date for reopening set for January 3, 1929.

Seventeen new cases were admitted to the hospital since the closing and were discharged. The influenza cases in the hospital today numbered 90, while the capacity of the hospital is 100.

CLEMSON COLLEGE SUSPENDS CLASSES

Greenville, S. C., December 11.—(P)—Officials of Clemson college, acting on the suggestion of the state health department, suspended all classes today until January 2 because of the prevalence of influenza.

Students now will be kept in the college infirmary until recovery, while others were released this morning and given permission to return immediately to their homes.

No figures were announced as to the number of students and members of the faculty suffering from flu now, but the announcement said "a large percentage" was ill.

Clemson is the technical college of the University of Carolina. A later announcement said that between 225 and 250 students were suffering from the disease. An increase from 200 in the past few days prompted officials to close the institution, it was said.

VESSEL AT SEA GETS WIRELESS PHOTOS AT NIGHT

S. S. Aquitania, December 11.—(P)—Phenomena by wireless sent by Davenport, England, were received aboard the Aquitania at midnight and reproduced by the fuhrgraph process. The Cunard liner was 450 miles from Great Britain when the pictures were received.

Electrical messages told a machine in a radio room that a boat exactly what to do and just a few minutes witnessed the demonstration.

At midnight the familiar voice of the operator at Davenport announced: "We are about to transmit pictures of the regency council acting for the king during his illness. The experiment is being conducted by Wireless Pictures, Ltd., in conjunction with the Daily Mail."

On shelves on each side of the cabin on the liner were two machines. One was a radio receiving set, connected and connected in parallel with the loud-speaker was a fuhrgraph receiver. This receiver includes a metal drum around which was placed specially prepared paper. The fuhrgraph machine by means of perfect synchronization converted sound impulses into graduated lines of light and shade which were reproduced on paper, gradually spreading across and building up the pictures.

TAX REFUNDS MAY WIPE OUT SURPLUS, COOLIDGE BELIEVES

Washington, December 11.—(P)—Treasury estimates of tax returns totaling near $55,000,000 more than originally expected to be required were signed today by President Coolidge who is apprehensive that a treasury deficit may result if congress appropriates too liberally.

In his budget message to congress, the president observed that it was plus of $37,000,000 was in prospect for the close of the fiscal year, but he believes now that it may be wiped out and the incoming president may face a deficit.

Suggestions have been made to Mr. Coolidge that President-elect Hoover is anxious that sufficient funds be appropriated for operation of the vast governmental machine, but the president feels his successor may encounter greater difficulty in the event the treasury runs short of cash. Mr. Coolidge believes that economy must be rigidly practiced now to avoid a deficit and that should departmental appropriations prove too small they could be increased by means of deficiency bills later.

GRAND JURY PROBE OF ALVEY CASE IS NOW PLANNED

Louisville, Ky., December 11.—(P)—A sweeping grand jury investigation into the kidnapping of Ed Alvey, 60-year-old Louisville bookmaker, was promised today by W. Clarke Otte, commonwealth's attorney, who announced that the wealthy gambler had promised his cooperation in running down his abductors and bringing them to justice.

The investigation will be launched Thursday. Alvey was forced to enter an automobile in front of his home on the night of December 3 and returned two nights later. At first he insisted that he had paid no ransom, but later told officers that his release was bought for "less than $500" and that he had promised he would not aid authorities in their prosecution. Kidnaping for ransom is a capital crime in Kentucky, punishable by death or life imprisonment.

KUDZINOWSKI ADMITS SLAYING LITTLE GIRL

Tells of Strangling 5-Year-Old Child Last August.

Jersey City, N. J., December 11.—(P)—Already under indictment for the murder of a seven-year-old boy, Peter Kudzinowski confessed to Jersey City police early today that he strangled a five-year-old Jersey City girl last August.

Just hours after a Hudson county grand jury had indicted him for murder in the first degree in the death of Joseph Storelli, of New York, Kudzinowski told police he lured five-year-old Julia Mlodzinowska away from a Sunday school picnic at Lake Hopatcong, N. J., August 19 and after attacking her choked her to death.

He also confessed to the slaying of Harry Quinn, 20, a fellow worker in Scranton, Pa., in 1924.

Kudzinowski was arrested in Detroit last week charged with drunkenness. While sobering up in the jail he told police of the murder of Quinn and the Storelli boy.

The confession as to the murder of the Mlodzinowska girl followed hours of questioning by police. After attacking the child he said he choked her to death to stifle her screams and then dismembered the body.

When a transcribed copy of his statement was given Kudzinowski to see, he seized the paper and tore it to pieces.

As police officers who had obtained the statement after persistent questioning looked on in amazement, Kudzinowski said, "You wanted a story and I gave you one." He only glared when police asked if what he had told them was false.

Extra precautions have been taken to guard the jail in which Kudzinowski is held as there have been several threats of mob action.

DRY FLEET TRAILS 14 PRIZE FIGHTERS ON TRAINING SHIP

Jacksonville, Fla., December 11.—(P)—A training ship for prize fighters looked peculiar to coast guard officials aboard two cutters in the St. Johns river here. Consequently, the Victory, lean black craft that tied up here last night with the announcement that 14 prize fighters were aboard and their way to Cuba would have the company of the two cutters to Havana.

The Victory has been seized three times for rum running, customs officials said, but was sold a year ago to a negro, Anthony Crawford. Members of her crew said she is a training vessel for prize fighters. The official American delegation, appointed by President Coolidge, will be headed by Orville Wright, who flew the airplane developed by himself and his brother, Wilbur, at Kitty Hawk, N. C., in 1903.

Orville Wright has been designated as the official guest of honor, and posthumous honors will be accorded his brother.

Martin Baylos, 28, had followed Shirley Bergman, a bookkeeper for the Gerlinger Light and Fixture company in Spring street, from the bank where she had just deposited some checks, back to her office. He followed her into the elevator, struck her with the pugilist's fist of the revenue cutter do not deny this, but said they had followed her from New York under orders never to lose her.

The Victory is expected to sail for Cuba shortly.

SENATE TAKES VOTE ON AMENDMENT TO DAM MEASURE

Washington, December 11.—(P)—An apparent compromise reached between California and Arizona on the floor of the senate today over the Boulder Canyon dam legislation came to naught when Arizona's senators announced later they would fight to the last against the bill.

The senate voted later, 48 to 29, to fix California's share of water at 4,400,000 acre-feet.

The proposal was a compromise between Arizona, which desired California's share to be limited to 4,200,000, and California, which insisted on 4,000,000 acre feet.

Senator Johnson, of California, first accepted the compromise on the understanding that no further changes would be made in the bill and then rescinded his action and voted against the compromise when Senators Hayden and Ashurst, of Arizona, declined to promise that they would not seek changes in the water power sections of the bill.

Democratic Members Of Ways Means Body Hold Short Session

Washington, December 11.—(P)—Democratic members of the ways and means committee met for the first time today to consider their participation in revision of the tariff, but postponed action until after the full committee hearings on the subject have been concluded.

The hearings will start January 7 and are expected to wind up the latter part of February. Democratic members of the committee will sit in the hearings, but will be excluded when actual preparation of a new bill is begun by the republicans in executive sessions.

Representative Garner, of Texas, ranking democrat on the committee, announced after today's meeting that only general discussion took place and that the minority would appoint no subcommittees at present, as the republicans have done, to handle each schedule in the tariff law when actual making begins.

"We will await the conclusion of hearings," Garner said, "before deciding upon any definite action. We are going on with the hearings and adapt ourselves to the situation as to what they may develop."

The ways and means committee hopes to have a new tariff bill ready for presentation to a possible extra session in May.

Girl of 19 Held in Holdup Ex-Wife of Alleged Bandit

Jacksonville, Fla., December 11.—(P)—Rita La Fleur, 19-year-old girl held in the county jail here on a charge of highway robbery, admitted today that she is Anita Del Valle, and the former wife of Jack Sullivan, alleged Arizona bandit leader.

The girl, who wears men's clothing, has confessed to two holdups in Jacksonville, police said, and is being held for trial under $1,000 bond, as is her alleged companion in the holdups, James Little, 19, of Arcadia, Fla. Trial dates for the pair will be set here in criminal court of record on December 18.

Attention was first drawn to her in Florida when she was shot twice by Gainesville police at a drive-by shooting. She was taken to Jacksonville, police said, and is being held for trial under $1,000 bond, as is her alleged companion in the holdups, James Little, 19, of Arcadia, Fla. Trial dates for the pair will be set here in criminal court of record on December 18.

A few hours after the girl said she is "not a criminal" and that she "would rather be hanged than go to the penitentiary." She said she was the wife of Jack Sullivan, who she said was killed during an airplane flight from San Diego, Calif., to Mexico City in January, 1927. She admitted that she was with two boys in Akron, Ohio, last February when one of them, Bud Sheppard, 15, was killed by the police, but declared that they were mistaken for filling station bandits and were later released.

She said she has travelled extensively over the United States, but added that "it was only in search for adventure."

C., in 1903.

Orville Wright has been designated as the official guest of honor, and posthumous honors will be accorded his brother.

There is a chance that she may not die. Asked who she was the woman would only shake her head and murmur, "Too late."

The victim was found by a police officer in the church. She was taken to a hospital, but died shortly after.

The woman was identified as Mrs. Mary Jane Smith, 45, of Chicago. She was a member of the church and had been attending services regularly.

WEATHER CAUSES STREET TO GIVE UP ALTITUDE FLIGHT

Dayton, Ohio, December 11.—(P)—Unsatisfactory weather conditions caused indefinite postponement today of the proposed altitude flight of Captain St. Clair Street and Albert W. Stevens, army aviators at Wright field.

In their flight the aviators planned to obtain photographs at the highest possible altitude, but the fog this morning was an impediment. They seek photographs of some definitely marked land, such as cities and towns. In their last attempt, which was in October, they obtained photographs of only farm land and were forced to the ground at Rushville, Ind., when the throttle on their plane froze.

YOUNG WIFE WOUNDED BY 'MYSTERY' BULLET

Mrs. A. H. Coogler Believed To Have Shot Self by Accident; Condition Critical.

Mrs. A. H. Coogler, 22 years old, was in a critical condition Tuesday night at Grady hospital, the victim of a mysterious bullet wound, believed by her husband to have been inflicted accidentally.

Mrs. Coogler was shot shortly after 2 o'clock Tuesday morning at her home, 263 Pryor street, S. W. The bullet, which penetrated her abdomen, may cause her death, attending physicians said.

The woman told the police that the gun, an automatic pistol, accidentally was discharged when she attempted to "shoot it further under the pillow." It is their custom to have the pistol beneath the pillow every night, she said. The husband was in the kitchen preparing a before-retiring luncheon, Mrs. Coogler said.

Coogler also believes the shot was fired by accident.

"I know of no reason why my wife should attempt suicide," he told the police. "We have had no domestic difficulties and I know of no trouble which would lead her to become dependent."

J. B. Brooks, of 30 Capitol square, stepfather of the young woman, asked the police to make a full investigation and Detective Lieutenant J. W. Barfield assigned Detectives W. J. Stephens and J. L. Taylor to the homi-

WORKED SIXTY YEARS FOR CHICAGO STORE

Six 50-Year Employees Will Act as His Pallbearers.

Chicago, December 11.—(P)—John Devlin, who tutored H. G. Selfridge, department store owner, through the primary grades of merchandising, is dead at the age of 82 years.

Devlin was Marshall Field & Co.'s "sixty-year diamond man" and is believed to have been the only man in the history of Chicago merchandising to have had a 60-year career with one firm.

"Diamond Men"—those who have a record of 50 years' service with Fields—gathered last night at the apartment where Devlin lived and made plans for his funeral. Six "Diamond Men" will act as pallbearers.

There were two things that Devlin was fond of recalling. One was the fact that he "broke in" Selfridge when Selfridge started work in Fields as a youth.

The other was the time he held Potter Palmer prisoner at the point of a gun. That was one midnight when Potter Palmer came to the store and was mistaken by Devlin as a burglar.

During the Chicago fire, when Devlin helped Levi Z. Leiter, then a member of the firm, carry out stock from the store. Devlin was one of the last men to leave as the flames bore down upon the building.

WORKED SIXTY YEARS FOR CHICAGO STORE

Six 50-Year Employees Will Act as His Pallbearers.

Chicago, December 11.—(P)—John Devlin, who tutored H. G. Selfridge, department store owner, through the primary grades of merchandising, is dead at the age of 82 years.

Devlin was Marshall Field & Co.'s "sixty-year diamond man" and is believed to have been the only man in the history of Chicago merchandising to have had a 60-year career with one firm.

"Diamond Men"—those who have a record of 50 years' service with Fields—gathered last night at the apartment where Devlin lived and made plans for his funeral. Six "Diamond Men" will act as pallbearers.

There were two things that Devlin was fond of recalling. One was the fact that he "broke in" Selfridge when Selfridge started work in Fields as a youth.

The other was the time he held Potter Palmer prisoner at the point of a gun. That was one midnight when Potter Palmer came to the store and was mistaken by Devlin as a burglar.

During the Chicago fire, when Devlin helped Levi Z. Leiter, then a member of the firm, carry out stock from the store. Devlin was one of the last men to leave as the flames bore down upon the building.

HOMER STRICKLAND GRANTED RETRIAL BY SUPREME COURT

The supreme court Tuesday granted a new trial to Homer Strickland, convicted in Hall county on a charge of killing Melvin Lowe on November 28, 1926. The higher court ruled that the trial court erred in admitting certain testimony which was placed before the jury at the time the jury was deliberating on the case.

Strickland was sentenced to serve a life term in the state prison. Lowe was a deputy sheriff and was killed by Strickland when an attempt was being made to arrest the latter.

Proposal Is Made To Keep Pitchers Out of Batting Order

Major League Change Asked By Nationals

Project Will Be Placed Before Joint Session Today at Chicago.

BY BRIAN BELL.
Associated Press Sports Writer.
New York, December 11.—A suggestion for the most radical change in the rules of baseball since foul balls were made strikes in 1901, was brought before the National league at its annual meeting today.

If the proposal, put forward by President John A. Heydler, is approved by the American league and the rules committee, weak hitting pitchers will become non-hitting pitchers.

President Heydler's proposal, which met with the favor of the majority of league club presidents, probably will be brought up at the joint meeting of the two major leagues in Chicago Thursday. If it is adopted, pitchers will be forced to meet and order the changes before the next playing season.

600 Pinch Hitters.
More than 600 pitchers were taken out of games in the National league last season to permit other players to bat for them. Mr. Heydler thought it a shame that pitchers who were giving a creditable exhibition should be forced from the game to permit a more able batsman to have a chance to hit.

Under the plan as outlined by the National league president a manager before a game would designate a player to take the pitcher's turn at bat throughout the game. The same player would have to appear as batsman in the place in the batting order reserved for the pitcher, even if a change of pitchers was ordered. The pitcher would be relieved of all batting and baserunning duties if his manager so wished. It would not be compulsory, however, and if a manager had faith in the batting ability of his pitcher he could permit him to take his chances with the rest.

Ten Drastic Changes.
The National league made four strikes up to the third strike count as strikes in 1901. The American league followed suit two years later. Since then no drastic changes have been made. The foul strike rule came in to curb the practice of following the change in the pitching distance from 50 to 60 feet, six inches in 1903.

On the face of the suggestion just put forward by President Heydler it

The Sportsman's Grantland Rice

Man's memory is long for what happened when he was an undergraduate. You've undoubtedly forgotten a lyric you composed the first time Oregon State sent its forces eastward for an intercollegiate game. Maybe this will help you remember it. Incidentally, the parallel between 1915 and 1928 is almost perfect. Michigan State was the cock of the middle western heap; they had just whipped Michigan by about four touchdowns, while Oregon State had a clean slate in the then Pacific Northwestern conference—a slate of four defeats. I can remember that a wide-eyed sophomore announced the telegraphed score of that game—27-0.

"That's nothing to get excited about," somebody said, gleefully. "I thought we'd hold them closer than that."

"Hold them, hell!" he shouted, "we like 'em!"

And that's the way I still feel about the N. Y. U. game.

E. H. REICHAERT.
Cobb had a championship batting eye for the better part of twenty-one years. Toward the finish he was still a better hitter than his record showed, because his speed killed many a safe blow that he would have earned a few years earlier. Cobb finished his twenty-four year up around 330. With the speed he had around 1910 this mark would have been lifted to 300 or better. That half a step to first base makes a killing distance through a season. And in 1928 he was more than 1910 or 1911.

Chicago Leads Again.
For the third year Chicago led in home attendance in spite of the slight drop from the 1927 season, while New York was the best attraction and this week, it's a "hot time in the old town" while the city sits pretty while its poverty stricken lover at the expense of a "big playboy."

Metropolitan.
The pictureization of the show Elsie Janis made famous a few years back, "Oh Kay" is being shown at the Metropolitan this week, and the star is none other than Colleen Moore, the vicious miss who has starred in numerous of the screen's most brilliant productions. Co-starred with Miss Moore are Neil Hamilton, Ford Sterling and Claude Gillingwater.

Rialto.
"The Haunted House," a delightful concoction of thrill makers plus plays at the Rialto this week. A man has been poisoned. He leaves letters which are not to be opened under any circumstances, but the curiosity of two women asserts itself resulting in setting a pace that mystery lovers will relish. Pretty Thelma Todd plays the heroine, while Chester Conklin enacts the comedy character role.

Loew's Grand.
"Tenderloin," the Warner Brothers talking hit, will be offered at Loew's Grand theater Wednesday for the last showing of its present engagement. Dolores Costello and Conrad Nagel are the stars.

Cameo.
Romantic mixups furnish the basis of the clever farce comedy, "Beware of Widows," which opens at the Cameo today for a two-day run. Laura La Plante is in the starring role. Others in the cast are Bryant Washburn, Paulette Goddard, Walter Hiers, Tully Marshall and Catherine Carter.

81 Theatre.
"Getting Hot," big-time colored revue show which will appear before a midnight frolic audience of whites Friday night at the 81 Theatre on Decatur street, Tuesday received high praise from Manager Tom Bailey, who inaugurated the popular winter series of midnight shows for white patrons of the Decatur street playhouse. "The show is a wow," Manager Bailey said, and indications from advance seat sales lead to the opinion that our white patrons know of this fact. The show has an imposing array of principals, clever dancers, funny comedians, excellent singers and a big, peppy chorus. Seats are on sale at Jacobs at Five points and at the theater box office.

Loew's Capitol.
Bert Walton, noted fun maker, is the headline attraction at Loew's Capitol theater this week. Another popular headline feature is the dancing turn of Braille and Palla. Other acts on the bill are Earle and Bell, harmony singers and musicians; Harry R. Toomer and Esther Gay in a comedy skit and Carr brothers and Betty in a comedy dance and hand-balancing turn. The picture is "Man, Woman and Wife."

Howard.
Clara Bow, the inimitable red-head madcap of the screen, again combines with Madame Glyn resultant in a pace-setting romance, "Three Week Ends," which shows at the Howard.

Uhle Traded By Cleveland In Big Deal

Detroit Club Gets In-and-Out Pitcher in Exchange for Two Men.

BY ORLO L. ROBERTSON.
Associated Press Sports Writer.
Chicago, December 11.—(AP)—The sound of the auctioneer's gavel over the person of George Uhle, Cleveland's in-and-out slab ace, eclipsed the verbal barrage of the club owners as the American league meeting opened today.

Uhle, who has been awaiting his turn on the auction block since the close of the 1928 season went into the Indians' rebuilding hopper in exchange for Johnnie Neun, flashy, but light hitting shortstop, and Kenneth Holloway, pitcher of the Detroit Tigers.

The transaction between Roger Peckinbaugh, of Cleveland, and Bucky Harris of Detroit was the only important deal of the day.

Neun Is Sold.
Harris showed he had no fear of wrecking his infield when he sold First Baseman Johnnie Neun out-right to the Toledo club of the American Association for an unannounced sum.

Neun was the second first baseman released by the Detroit manager within a week, Sweeney having been traded to Toronto in a deal that placed First Baseman Dale Alexander in a Tiger uniform.

Neun's outright sale was a surprise as it was thought that the other major league clubs would refuse to waive on the speedy Tiger first sacker.

The proposal of the minor leagues that the majors sell their "farms" and the much tossed about draft proposition were discussed by the owners but no action was taken. A definite stand may be taken tomorrow.

At the instigation of the National Association of Professional Baseball players, the owners favored a five-year program of subscribing $5,000 a year to the fund for the privilege of cancelling the agreement with one year's notice. The proposition must now be approved by the National league.

The American Legion's nation-wide junior baseball program was assured the support of the majors, when the American league club for many years, has been signed as manager of the Mobile team of the Southern association. He succeeds Milton Stock, resigned, to become the pilot of the Dallas club of the Texas league. Announcement of Hulsitt's appointment was made today by President William A. Douglas of the local club.

RUDY HULSWITT NEW MANAGER OF BEAR CLUB

Mobile, Ala., December 11.—(AP)—Rudy Hulsitt, scout of the Boston American league club for many years, has been signed as manager of the Mobile team of the Southern association. He succeeds Milton Stock, resigned, to become the pilot of the Dallas club of the Texas league. Announcement of Hulsitt's appointment was made today by President William A. Douglas of the local club.

Athletics, Braves Play in Richmond

Richmond, Va., December 11.—(AP)—It was learned on good authority here today that the Philadelphia Athletics and Boston Braves will stage a spring exhibition game in Richmond April 5, and the latter club will remain here to train until April 10.

The Braves, it was explained, are unwelcome to their players, finely trained, in the warm Florida climate, direct to Massachusetts, and will experiment with a week's stop-over here to become acclimated to a lower temperature than they left far south.

31 Yellow Jackets Are Named For Invasion of California

Alexander Posts Lists of Players Who Will Make Trip to Rose Bowl.

Husky young gentlemen who play football for the Georgia School of Technology dropped by Coach Alexander's office Tuesday and read a list of names posted there. Thirty-one of the young gentlemen turned away with beaming countenances and immediately began humming that tune made famous by the Tech band Saturday which was "California, Here I Come."

The lucky ones will leave Atlanta on December 22 headed for the Tournament of Roses and California's Golden Bear, said by the denizens of California to be the best in the world. All of that may be true, but in the argument which takes place New Year's Tech will be effectively represented in this national championship struggle.

List of Players on Trip.
Three coaches, Trainer Hal Barron and the negro rubberer, Burton, will accompany the boys which will make quite a sizeable party.

The men who will make the trip are:

Centers—Captain Pund, Rusk, Misp and Law.
Guards—Drennon, Westbrook, Keener, Brooke and Edwards.

Tackles—Watkins, Maree, Thrash and Holt.

Ends—Waddy, Jones, Holland, Heron, Von Weiler and Brumby.

Backs—Durant, Thomaston, Mizell, Shuman, Lumpkin, Randolph, Fitzgerald, Dunlap, Smith, Parham, Faist and Luna.

Upon the shoulders of these young men are being carried the hopes of Tech as its Tornado goes swirling westward.

Boys Enjoy Rest.
The men at the present time, are roaming the city with not a training nor practice care to worry them. Alex turned 'em loose Saturday night and said there would be no practice until Monday, when the boys buckle down to preparation for the game.

The work is expected to be rather heavy with a couple of scrimmages, as there will be only a week left before the boys board the train for the long ride to California.

Georgetown Coach Resigns His Post
Georgetown, Ky., December 11.—(AP)—Walter E. Hovater, coach at Georgetown college for the past five years, handed his resignation to college officials today. He had been offered a contract, similar to those he has been working under from year to year, and refused to accept it. He said tonight that he had no other coaching position in view.

Williams Will Not Turn Professional

Vancouver, B. C., December 11.—(AP)—Percy Williams has no intention of turning professional, the Olympic sprint champion has informed George S. Harrison, custodian of the Williams Memorial fund.

Williams, announced Saturday that he was discontinuing his studies at the University of British Columbia. Friends said so many demands have been made upon his time by persons desiring to honor him for his Olympic victory that he had no chance to keep up with his studies.

After his withdrawal from college, he was summoned into conference with the committee controlling the Williams fund. Later it was announced the committee was ready to assist him in any reasonable manner.

If he intends to enter business he will be given aid, committee said.

Helen Waring Wins First Round Match
Pinehurst, N. C., December 11.—(AP)—Miss Helen Waring, 18-year-old Yonkers, N. Y., girl, added another victory to her string today by routing Mrs. E. C. Bliss, of Pinehurst college football club, in the first round of match play of the season members golf tournament here by the score of 8 and 7. She was medalist in this tournament as well as in the Carolina tournament for women played last week.

Carroll Knocks Out Ex-Star at Clemson
Jacksonville, December 11.—(AP)—Jeff Carroll, Biloxi, Miss., heavyweight, scored a knockout over Jack Kirten, ex-Clemson college football star, in the fifth round of their ten-frame bout here tonight. A looping left to the solar plexus sent the Carolina to the mat doubled up. Cries of "foul" from ringside spectators, sent a physician into the ring where an examination showed the blow was fair.

Florida's Eleven Honored by Club
Gainesville, Fla., December 11.—(AP)—The Gainesville Rotary club paid homage at a football luncheon today to Florida's 1928 "Fighting Gators."

Dr. Walter Morton, of Penny Farms, former athletic official of the University of Southern California, was the principal speaker, and declared that Florida stood as one of the greatest football machines in America today, not only by virtue of their triumphs on the gridiron, but for their character, sportsmanship and scholarship.

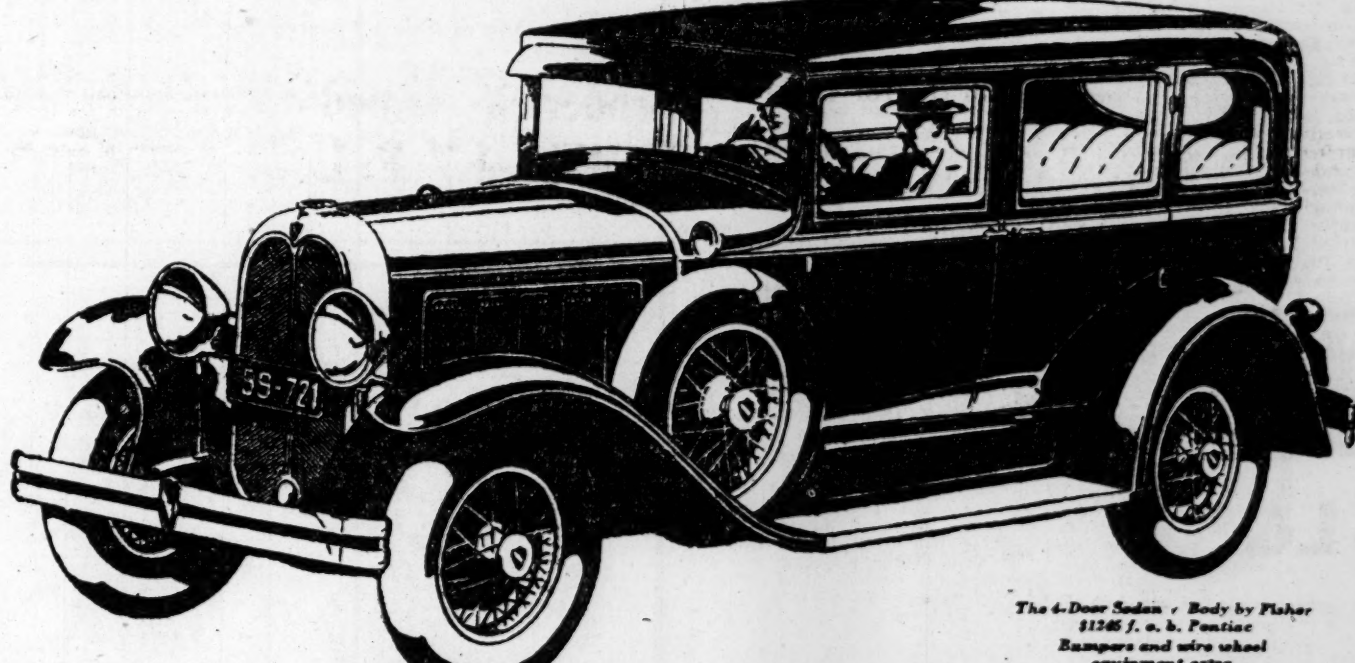

Dr. Morton expressed the hope that the Universities of Florida and Southern California would be able to enter into athletic relations at an early date.

President John J. Tigert expressed in a brief text this admiration of the team.

Rotarians distributed prizes to each of the Gators.

Blumenschein Paintings On Exhibit at Museum.

In the paintings by Ernest Blumenschein, on exhibit at the High Museum of Art, a fine sense of drawing and design are evidenced. While the color seems crude and heavy, it is adequate for the subject. The picture, after with the ideas expressed, his material is well-selected and only significant features are included.

Blumenschein is reminiscent of the great French painter, Paul Gauguin, who spent his life among the Tahitian natives making a detailed study of their habits and beliefs in order to bring to canvas an accurate conception of their nature. In like manner, Blumenschein has spent years among the Taos natives imbibing their spirit, superstitions, and customs and has reproduced in his canvases, through a strong sense of design and composition, combined with a keen perception for color effects, the savage strength and restrained vitality of the American Indian.

The canvas "Superstition" expresses in symbolic form the fears and religious ideas of the Indian, and holds a particular interest for students of mysticism. The picture, "Idealist, Dreamer, Realist," is of the same symbolic expression, including in its images a miniature caricature of Walter Ufer, the great Indian painter and a contemporary of Blumenschein's. Other paintings in this group include mountain scenes, landscapes, and action pictures of the Taos country, together with several night scenes of New York.

Russian Prince Believes Situation PRINCE D'ARBELOFF TURNS WITS TO COMMERCIAL ART Grows Better in Native Country

By Bessie S. Stafford.

Being bereft of a fortune through the disasters of the Russian revolution and forced to turn to work in order to support himself and family developed a latent talent, that of designing gorgeous costumes and wraps, in Prince Vladimir d'Arbeloff, relative and god-son of the Grand Duke Alexander, who is spending several days in Atlanta exhibiting his collection at the Biltmore. He is a very distinguished personality, with gracious manners and engaging charm, who was born in Moscow, one of the largest inland cities in Russia, having arrived in America ten days ago and was introduced here by friends of prominent Russians.

"The situation remains very deplorable in my native country," said Prince d'Arbeloff, on being interviewed at the Biltmore, "but I believe the end is in sight and things are clearing somewhat. In another year perhaps, Russia will be in better condition. It is now known as a soviet republic, governed by an executive committee, elected by the soviet congress, with Stalin as head of the committee. Thousands of the nobility have turned to trade like myself, and have fled to foreign countries to make a living."

Highly Educated. This highly educated member of Russian nobility speaks in a well modulated voice and uses the choicest of English to frame his sentences, having been taught the language when a little boy under the tutelage of a governess. He, like many another refugee, turned his wits to commercial art and fled to Paris six years ago, where his wonderful embroidery designs caught the fancy of the famous couturiers in the French capital. Prince d'Arbeloff now owns his exclusive establishment in Paris, which he calls the House of Anart, and himself designs the gorgeous evening wraps and gowns for an ever-widening clientele to which he gives complete satisfaction. He married Baroness Katharine Tiebolt three years ago in Paris, and the Grand Duke Alexander, cousin and brother-in-law of the late czar, and the Princess Bonaparte were members of the bridal party. A two-year-old baby boy, with soft brown eyes just like his father, has blessed the union, and of whom Prince d'Arbeloff delights to speak with pardonable pride.

There is heart and sentiment in this handsome democratic representative of Russian nobility, who is not the sort of man who talks about himself, therefore his success is partly due to his simplicity and plainness, and he entirely effaces the fact that he is a royal-born person. He has the determination to rise above the tragedies which have befallen Russia and possesses a remarkable amount of common sense. He is using his creative gift to make him independent in his future life, and his conversation gleams with dry humor.

THE YOUNG PRETENDERS

By Alice Grant Rosman

SYNOPSIS.

Lying helpless in bed after a motor accident, Hugo Donaldson broods because his father, with whom he's quarreled just before the smash, never visits him. He decides he must be dead. Lady Eleanor Winslow, his aunt, tells him that his friend, Paul, is in prison for stealing; that he married a girl of whom his family disapproved, and that Bunnay Molyneux is heartbroken because she expected to marry him. Bunnay calls to tell Hugo she believes Paul has been the victim of blackmailers. She is shocked that his family failed him. The girl, Bunnay, who was never engaged to Paul but would like to help him because of their lifelong friendship, Hugo gives her his red roadster, which he calls Miss Trotsky.

Paul's wife, living in disguise as Mrs. Hallett, accepts an offer to read to Hugo every day. She is glad to have an opportunity to study the friends of Paul, whom she believes are enemies, and is surprised to learn that Hugo is loyal and only his accident has prevented him from helping Paul. Bunnay's nurse, cautious Mrs. Hallett, never mentions the boy's father, as the sight of Sir Richard so disturbed Hugo while delirious that the doctors advise his keeping away. Hugo and his roadster become fast friends, and Bunnay is the only visitor he is always glad to see. He asks her for the newspaper that contains a hint of the quarrel with his father, over the disgrace of his being sent down from Oxford, and he decides Sir Richard has not forgiven him and has ordered him shut away in this room.

INSTALLMENT XXXIII.

HUGO'S GREAT INSPIRATION.

"I say, Bunnay, thanks awfully for getting those cuttings so quickly," said Hugo. "Did you have any luck about Mrs. Paul?"

"All right, were they?" she asked. "You are important, aren't you? You should have seen Miss Trotsky hawking all that literature home and me sitting in the middle of the library floor cutting you out of it in slices. Robin began to believe I must be mad after all when she first caught sight of me. Then she came and read 'em to me, one by one, as I fished them out. Got quite worked up about you. I can tell you. I think I'll bring her along to see you soon, old Hugo. She'd like that."

"Yes, do," said Hugo eagerly. "Then I suppose you didn't have any time to see about Mrs. Paul when you were doing all that for me?"

"O, I went down to the city first," admitted Bunnay, "and for a time I thought I'd drawn a blank. The head of Mrs. Paul's firm didn't want to hear the name of Molyneux. Very painful, the whole affair, he said, for a reputable business man to be mixed up in, how wow. He didn't seem to be down on the girl, but on poor, poor, old Paul. Modern young men were all no good, he barked. There hadn't been any decent young men since the war and then it turned out that his only son had been killed in it, which explained his feeling like that. That was why he took Mrs. Paul into his office, because her father had been killed, too, and he asked if I didn't think it our duty to consider such things, so I took the hint and said yes. When he discovered I had lost my only brother in the war, too, the old boy quite unbent," finished Bunnay.

"I didn't know you ever had a brother," exclaimed Hugo.

"Neither did I till then," said Bunnay calmly, "but something had to be done to save Mrs. Paul's chief, and, after all, Robin's son must have been a sort of brother of mine, if she is to be my children's grandmother. You can't get away from that. Anyway, the old boy and I were lifelong friends after that and he told me Mrs. Paul had been in his office four years, and they thought the world of her. A thoroughly dependable and honorable young lady, and her marriage a sad disaster. Well, Hugo, as I said I was the girl's friend, I had to let that pass, though I did suggest she was much too bright a lass to marry a thief and perhaps he wasn't guilty after all. The end of it was that he said he couldn't actually give me her address, because that was strictly against business etiquette, but if I cared to leave a note for her he would undertake to forward it without delay. So I gave him the letter and he more or less gave me his blessing and showed me out and thanked me for coming. She'll have got your check with a bit of luck by now."

Hugo tried to persuade himself that he was immensely relieved that they had been able to send help to Paul's wife, but in spite of himself he couldn't really think of nothing but Bunnay, who had so kindly and cleverly accomplished it. He, who had never criticized Paul in his life before, now pondered with amazement upon this man who had had the chance of winning Bunnay and had yet preferred another girl. Paul little knew what he had let Bunnay in for and he would be in a great state when he discovered it, but what was the use of that? Sue was at the mercy of Mrs. Molyneux, teasing lies about her for her own purposes, and of Aunt Eleanor, only too ready to pass them out. Hugo knew his mother would contradict them, but that was only a mild comfort, for his pretty mother, so kindly in her judgment of everyone, was no match for shrewdly suspected, for that accomplished scandal maker, her aunt.

"I say, I didn't mean to tell you, Bunnay," he said, "but I think I may as well. Aunt Eleanor has been spouting her fairy tales to mother, but I put a stop to that. You should have heard me hooting forth this morning to everybody that you and Paul were merely friends and that I say so and I ought to know. And I've threatened to pass them out. I'm to broadcast the fact if she doesn't shut Aunt Eleanor up."

"Pretty good joke that would be," she said, "and wouldn't Molly be pleased?" But don't you go and worry your silly old head about it, you donkey. I don't mind joining the skeleton brigade, except that it's a kind of reflection on Paul and such a score for Molly. You know the truth and so do I and so does Paul. I don't think the elders matter, except Robin, who is on our side. They like believing lies about us, if you ask me."

"Yes, don't they?" said Hugo eagerly.

His own trouble, secret even from Bunnay, came rushing back upon him. The elders were to blame for everything. They were devoid of loyalty and understanding and a sense of fair play. Paul, Bunnay, and he were their helpless victims. But for the Molyneux Paul would be free and happy as of old instead of hidden away disgraced by a beastly prison. But for his father he, Hugo, would be whole instead of a wreck in blue pajamas, and but for Molly and Aunt Eleanor Bunnay's name would not be bandied about as a scandal by Paul and slightly deranged in consequence. Hugo's rage against the elders blazed in his eyes, and he longed to be revenged upon them and to show them up for what they were.

He could not get Paul out of prison; he could not mend his damaged spine, but surely, if he put his wits to work, he could do something about Bunnay.

He turned his head to watch her, jangling up and down the room whistling her own accompaniment, and he knew his secret must have betrayed his mood, so that she had tactfully turned herself away.

He thought of Miss Trotsky and smiled, recalling his mother's startled face when he had told her of the gift. She had been almost shocked; he was certain of that.

Suddenly, out of his remembrance of his mother, Hugo's great inspiration came, and he shouted to Bunnay in triumph.

"Come here, quick! I've got it, Bunnay Bunnay," he said. "One good idea deserves another, and we'll fool 'em lot of them. How could you possibly have been thrown over by Paul when all the time you were secretly engaged to me?"

"What?" cried Bunnay, wheeling around and surveying him with wide open eyes.

Then, the full beauty of the scheme unfolded itself to her quick mind, she raced one of the big chairs over to Hugo's bed and sat in the middle of it, her slim legs in the scarlet slippers sticking out straight before her and her face alive with mischief.

"Genius!" she apostrophized the gallant on the bed. "You would 'em Molly brown, for, of course, we'd have told Paul in confidence, and it would let him out completely. Come on, quick, let us work it all out and make it really artistic. I'll give 'em a bedtime story."

ON JUST TELL HIM TO TAKE A BIG TRUNK AND FILL IT WITH GREEN BACKS AND GET OVER HERE— AS FAST AS HE CAN— THERE ARE A LOT OF HUNGRY MOUTHS— AND WE NEED HIM

WHAT SHALL WE SAY?

MOON MULLINS—THE OLD MERRY-GO-ROUND

SAY— WILL YOUSE GUIT POKIN' YER BILL OVER MY SHOULDER? YOU BEEN EATIN' ONIONS AGAIN!

MAKE YERSELF USEFUL IF YOU WANTA KEEP YER HEALTH AROUND HERE. BANJOEY— RUN OUT TO TH' WELL AND GET ME A BUCKET OF WATER.

THIS IS JUST TH' CHANCE I'VE BEEN LOOKIN' FOR EVER SINCE THAT GANG OF BIG JIM'S KIDNAPPED ME UP HERE—

WHEEW! WHENEVER I FIND CIVILIZATION AGAIN I'LL FEEL LIKE CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS—

A HOUSE AT LAST— ON BOY! THAT'S TH' FIRST ONE I'VE SEEN IN AT LEAST THE LAST FORTY MILES.

I'LL BE A—

WELL, WHERE'S THAT BUCKET OF WATER?

SOMEBODY'S STENOGRAPHER—Watch the Papers

JIMMY! HOW WAS I TO KNOW THE BOY WOULD TAKE IT SO HARD JUST BECAUSE I FOUND HE HAD A GRAY HAIR?

WELL, 'OUD BETTER NOT TELL HIS FATHER HE'S SAD. NO USE THE OLD MAN HAVIN A WORRY TOO. HE HAD A HAIR TO WORRY ABOUT.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH MY SON? HE SEEMED WORRIED WHEN HE WENT OUT.

WHY— WE— HADN'T NOTICED— ANY— THING— A— TALL MISTER SMITHERS!

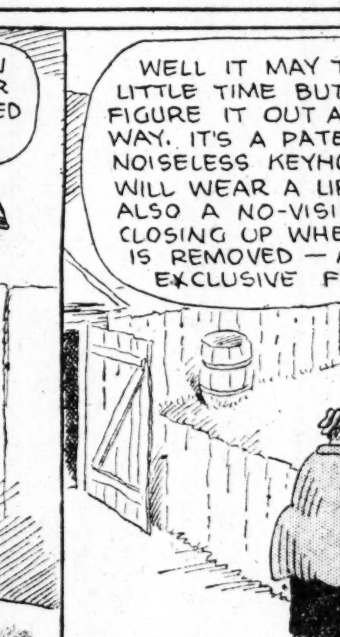

I MIGHT JUST AS WELL END IT ALL NOW!

TWO MORE "CLEOPATRA FUZZIES" BO— TOMORROW MAYBE I'LL BE IN THE HEADLINES! WATCH THE RIVER NEWS!

GASOLINE ALLEY—MARKET COMMENT: NO PAR VALUE

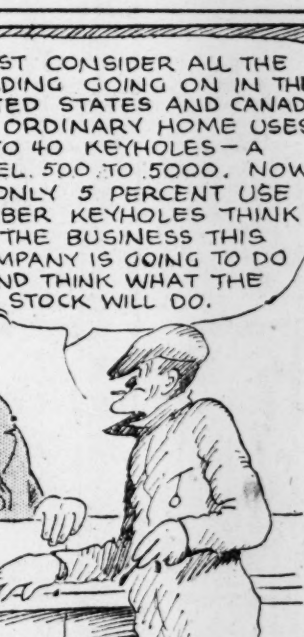

SAY BILL, DO YOU KNOW ANY MORE ABOUT RUBBER KEYHOLE? IT HASN'T STARTED ON THAT CLIMB YOU SAID IT WOULD.

WELL IT MAY TAKE A LITTLE TIME BUT I CAN'T FIGURE IT OUT ANY OTHER WAY. IT'S A PATENTED NOISELESS KEYHOLE AND IT WILL WEAR A LIFETIME. IT'S ALSO A NO-VISIBILITY KEYHOLE CLOSING UP WHEN THE KEY IS REMOVED— ANOTHER EXCLUSIVE FEATURE.

I GUESS INVESTORS HAVEN'T LEARNED ABOUT IT YET.

JUST CONSIDER ALL THE BUILDING GOING ON IN THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA. AN ORDINARY HOME USES 16 TO 40 KEYHOLES— A HOTEL, 500 TO 5000. NOW IF ONLY 5 PERCENT USE RUBBER KEYHOLES THINK OF THE BUSINESS THIS COMPANY IS GOING TO DO AND THINK WHAT THE STOCK WILL DO.

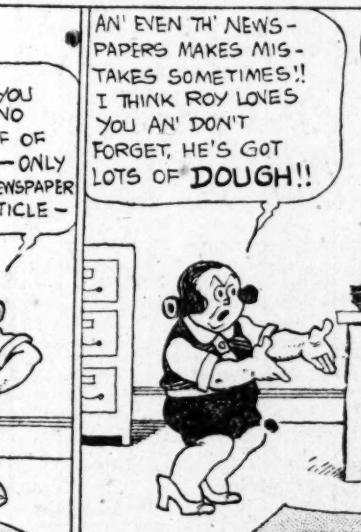

ANYWAY I FEEL BETTER NOW.

Winnie Winkle, The Breadwinner

Dollars and Sense.

PAT, I CAN'T GET OVER THE CONTEMPTIBLE TRICK ROY LEIGHTON PLAYED ON ME BY BECOMING ENGAGED TO ANOTHER GIRL AND STILL TRYING TO COURT ME!!

AN, YOU GOT NO PROOF OF THAT— ONLY THAT NEWSPAPER ARTICLE—

THAT MEANS NOTHING TO ME!!

IF I EVER DID MARRY ROY LEIGHTON— IT WOULDN'T BE FOR HIS MONEY!!

OH— BE YERSELF, WINNIE—

HOW ELSE WOULD YA GET IT???

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE

The Night Shift.

AFTER SUPPER CAN YOU PLAY CHECKERS WITH ME MR. SILO. LIKE YOU PROMISED YOU WOULD SOME EVENING?

NOT THIS EVENING, ANNIE— I'VE GOT SOME WORK TO DO AT THE BARN AFTER SUPPER— TO-MORROW EVENING, MAYBE—

BUT I TOLD ELMER TO COME BACK TO-NIGHT AND HELP ME GET THE WAGONS LOADED— NOW SEE WE'RE HAULING GRAIN TO TOWN TO THE ELEVATOR AND WE MUST GET AN EARLY START IN THE MORNING SO WE'LL HAVE TIME TO MAKE TWO TRIPS TO-MORROW—

GEE— FOLKS IN TOWN NEVER WORK MORE'N 'BOUT EIGHT HOURS A DAY— EVENINGS THEY GO TO THE MOVIES, OR LISTEN TO TH' RADIO—

YES, ANNIE— SOME FARMERS DO THAT TOO— BUT WHEN THEY DO THEY DON'T GET ALONG VERY WELL—

THERE'S ABOUT SO MUCH ON A FARM THAT HAS TO BE DONE EVERY DAY— FARMERS CAN'T STOP WHEN THE CLOCK STRIKES A CERTAIN HOUR— THEY CAN ONLY STOP WHEN THE DAY'S WORK IS DONE— AND SOMETIMES IT NEVER SEEMS TO BE DONE—

The Day in Finance

By
R. L. BARNUM

New York, December 11.—There was support at the opening of the stock market such as was witnessed yesterday, with the market opening steady but comparatively quiet, only 1,800,000 shares changing hands in the corresponding period yesterday. After the opening the market was only a few minutes behind the floor, catching up long before noon, exactly the reverse of what has been happening stock market for weeks and months.

Time money remained unchanged at 7 1/4 for periods up to 90 days and 7 1/2 for longer periods up to six months. Call money, however, opened plentiful at 8 per cent, against yesterday's 9 and Friday's 10. Around noon the rate on call money dropped to 7 per cent, reflecting recent liquidation in the stock market and the drop in the volume of trading.

The stock market was steady in the early part of the day, became strong and more active on 7 per cent call money.

Informed Wall Street expects comparatively easy call money for the remainder of this week. Money is piling fourth 1929 income tax payments.

Whether or not the strain in the call money market last week is again witnessed before the end of the year, there will be a resumption of year-end requirements, depends largely on whether or not the active bill stock market is resumed.

More Gold in Way.

Sentiment was helped by the news that more gold was coming from Canada, shipment of $2,000,000 being arranged. This month should see a seasonal flow of gold from Canada to New York.

What has happened recently in changing the stock market picture was reflected in a sale of New York Stock Exchange set today for $500,000, a drop of $5,000 from the last transaction. However, the curb market evidently expects a resumption of stock market activity. The ticker service of this smaller exchange, now larger than the New York Stock Exchange only a few days ago, has been extended to Springfield, Mass. This ticker service is now found in cities as far south as Wheeling, W. Va., as far west as Chicago and north to Montreal and Toronto, east as far as Boston.

International Nickel continues to display the firmness witnessed during the recent violent decline in the stock market. With the new stock not ready for delivery and the old stock supplied for exchange the floating supply is very small.

Montgomery Ward opened at 120 ex-rights to subscribe to the new stock. This price looked cheap compared with yesterday's high of 345 and the recent high of 430 7/8.

While the General Motors splitup has been approved by the shareholders, it is understood that the company will not be ready for delivery until early in January. In the meantime the old stock will continue to be traded in.

Radio Practically Cornered.

Radio, Packard, Goodyear Tire & Rubber and Delaware & Hudson were outstanding for far as radio was practically cornered with a powerful pool operating in the stock. Packard has been under accumulation for weeks and months. It is understood that the company is now earning at the rate of $1 a month from its automobile department, with big things expected of the new airplane department and its new engine. Goodyear Tire & Rubber is one of the well-managed companies benefited by more stabilized conditions in crude rubber. Delaware & Hudson shareholders expect something more than the regular $9 annual dividend from recent readjustments. A year ago the coal properties were turned over to a new company. Now the railroad is only a separate company. The parent company has $63,000,000 cash from the recent sale of its Lehigh Valley and Washburn to Pennsylvania.

The merging of 22 department stores throughout the country, with more to be taken in, is in line with recent developments in all directions.

United States Leather, which declared four quarterly dividends of $1 each payable next year out of this year's earnings on the placing of the stock on a $4 basis, is prominent in this column last summer that U. S. Leather would declare dividends before the end of this year. The leather industry has been in a state of recovery. Unmistakable signs of recovery began to appear early this year, and by the middle of the year it was plain that the industry had been turned.

Steel, leather, copper and oil are among the industries showing remarkable recovery from conditions existing at the beginning of this year. The shipping coal and textiles industries are among the sick list. There are signs that the last named industry is beginning to stir and take nourishment. Encouraging reports are coming to Wall street from insiders in American Wool.

President Hughes, of the Domestic Sugar Producers, is now holding its annual convention at Kansas City, predicts that Cuba will produce at least 1,000,000 more tons of sugar next year than this, with the restrictions on production in Cuba removed.

SAY MAN—

WHAT would make your wife and children more thankful than for you to tell them you had bought a real home for them?

WEST END Heights, corner of Lakewood St. and Donnelly Ave., is a good place to live. I am finishing attractive homes on Donnelly avenue and Ewing place. If you paid twice as much as I am asking you could not get better material nor workmanship. Best grade oak floors, built-in copper basins, copper basement, furnace—in fact a real home.

N. W. I will sell you the best part. Can be bought on the disappearing mortgage plan. No interest coupons to pay, no reduction in loans to be bothered with. You pay the same each month, no more than the monthly mortgage payment. If you want a home you should come to see me. T. C. HOLMES, Owner.

JULY 10, 1898, GEN. SHAFTER SENT HIS ULTIMATUM TO THE SPANIARDS, DECLARING THAT IF SANTIAGO WAS NOT SURRENDERED AT ONCE HE WOULD BOMBARD THE CITY. GEN. TORAL WOULD NOT YIELD, BUT WHEN THE AMERICAN SHELLS BEGAN DROPPING WITHIN THE SPANISH LINES, HE RENEWED NEGOTIATIONS WITH SHAFTER.

The Story of Our War With Spain.
The Surrender of Santiago.

BY THIS TIME THERE WAS GREAT DISTRESS IN SANTIAGO. FOOD WAS LOW, THE WATER SUPPLY HAD BEEN CUT OFF, AND RUMORS OF THE DESTRUCTION OF CERVERA'S FLEET WHICH THE SPANISH OFFICERS TRIED TO SUPPRESS, DISCOURAGED THE GARRISON.

JULY 17, 1898, TORAL ACCEPTED SHAFTER'S TERMS. AT NINE O'CLOCK IN THE MORNING THE TWO COMMANDERS MET BETWEEN THE OPPOSING LINES, AND THE FORMAL SURRENDER TOOK PLACE UNDER THE SPREADING BRANCHES OF A BIG CEBA TREE.

TORAL SURRENDERED THE CITY OF SANTIAGO, WITH ITS STRONGHOLDS AND MOST OF EASTERN CUBA, TOGETHER WITH SOME 23,000 SPANISH SOLDIERS, WHOM THE AMERICANS AGREED TO TRANSPORT TO SPAIN.

TOMORROW—THE AMERICANS OCCUPY SANTIAGO.

COOPERATION PLEDGED AT DINNER OF MAYOR

Heads of City and County Government Are Present at Feast.

If harmony and a general spirit of cooperation will make the year 1929 one of success for the city of Atlanta, then during the next twelve months Atlanta will enjoy a period of unprecedented prosperity.

This fact was clearly demonstrated Tuesday night at the annual gathering of heads of the city departments, city officers, and friends of the administration at a dinner given by Mayor I. N. Ragsdale at the West End Woman's club.

Cooperation Pledged.

Present, incoming and outgoing city department heads were present, and each of those who will be connected with the city during 1929 expressed a desire to cooperate fully with the administration while the outgoing members of the city hall family all told of their admiration for Mayor Ragsdale and the rest of the official family, and wished the city's ship of state all good luck and best results during the next year.

In his address Mr. Ragsdale spoke of his ambition to promote harmony for fruitful results during 1929, and urged the elimination of political propaganda or anything else which might hinder the city's growth and progress. The 1929 program of the city is intended to make other cities recognize Atlanta more than they do at present, and the lowest direct taxer will find that he is due as much consideration from the mayor as any other city employee, the mayor said.

Henson Tatum, secretary of Mayor Ragsdale, declared that "cooperation is an appropriate term to use in connection with Mayor Ragsdale's administration." The departments of the city have never functioned with more precision than during his term of office, Mr. Tatum said. "Progress will continue to be the watchword while cooperation rules," he said.

Incoming Officials Speak.

Among the incoming city officials who pledged their cooperation were: Clarke Donaldson, chief of construction; R. B. McMurray, tax collector-elect; P. H. Hendricks, city electrician-elect; and the following incoming members of city council: Joe Berman, Tom Morris, W. Rountree, Ed Gilliam and Robert Cobb, the latter having been reelected.

Retiring city officials who expressed their best wishes for the 1929 administration were W. B. Hensel, chief of construction; R. C. Turner, city electrician; and Dr. C. J. Vaughn, councilman from the fourth ward.

Walter B. Stewart, chairman of the Fulton county commission, and Paul S. Etheridge, member of the county commission, were introduced as guests. Other prominent guests included Milton Burman, president of the chamber of commerce; Baxter Maddox, president of the junior chamber of commerce; George West, of the Fur-

Cargo of Liquor Seized But Car Driver Escapes

After a break-neck chase, during which he was forced to ride his machine along the sidewalk, Motorcycle Officer J. A. Bailey, Tuesday night captured a large, new touring car carrying a 140-gallon cargo of whisky. The driver escaped in a companion's auto.

Officer Bailey was riding slowly along Boulevard at Houston with the lights on his motor extinguished when the touring car, closely followed by a large sedan, swept past him at an excessive rate of speed.

Giving chase the policeman drew his cycle up alongside of the sedan and attempted to pass it on the right to overtake the fleeing touring car. Acting as a "block," the sedan swung sharply to the right in an attempt to force Bailey against a telephone pole at the curb and so out of the chase.

In order to avoid delay, the officer promptly swung his machine up over the curb and onto the sidewalk, switching on his lights and sped down the block toward the intersection of Boulevard and Houston. Here he veered sharply to his left and drew up in front of the speeding run car.

The driver of the touring car brought his car to a partial stop, leaped from the running board of his machine to that of the sedan which had drawn up close and made good his escape.

The liquor-laden touring car, checked on moving at a brick pace along Boulevard and as it passed Officer Bailey jumped in it and brought it to a stop.

TRUCK MARKETING COMMITTEE NAMED TO AID GROWERS

Mayor I. N. Ragsdale Tuesday named a special committee to study the problem of marketing truck products produced in Fulton and adjoining counties.

This is expected to be a marked step in the promotion of such activity since it is designed to stabilize marketing conditions and assure growers of a permanent selling place to which their products may be brought for sale.

At the present time no such central point is designated and producers and buyers alike can meet at any one place to trade.

The committee is composed of James L. Wells, councilman from the eighth ward, chairman; J. H. Hendrix, of the Fulton county commission; Aubrey Milam, representing the Atlanta wholesale produce dealers; and Harry Brown, Fulton county farm demonstration agent.

F. von Herrmann, head of the local United States weather bureau, who says that a little dampness is drifting this way from Texas but that it will not be enough to bother about.

The official thermometer registered a low point of 36 Thursday morning but climbed rapidly thereafter and reached a maximum of 58 during the afternoon. The weather man figures on a range from 40 up to 60 for today.
